ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

37% surge on likely major contract win or pre-announcement of strong crane demand in infrastructure/energy verticals. Forward catalyst: November 4 earnings where backlog and 2027 guidance will be scrutinized; any indication of sustained infrastructure spending or energy project pipelines extends momentum.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Manitowoc manufactures mobile cranes and boom trucks under Manitowoc and Grove brands, serving infrastructure, energy, and commercial construction end markets. The company is levered to large project cycles and benefits from infrastructure spending and energy transition capex.

FACTOR & THEME

Infrastructure and reshoring theme with exposure to energy transition (wind farm construction, transmission builds). Macro tailwind from bipartisan infrastructure spending and industrial capex, though construction cycle is turning.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $19.50 on vol >617% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume at 6.17x with tiny float (33.3M) creates significant squeeze potential. RS line new high at prox_52w 99.8 is textbook breakout. No insider buying raises question of whether insiders see the move as fair value or overextended.

EARNINGS

EARNINGS IN 89D

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Next print November 4. Industrials companies often guide conservatively; the 37% move suggests either a major order announcement or channel checks showing order book acceleration.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalidated on a close below $17.50, or if November 4 earnings reveal the move was driven by a one-time order without underlying demand inflection, or if construction activity data deteriorates.

ANALYSIS

RS line new high + prox_52w 99.8 + vol surge are A-grade signals, but base_tight at 9.4 is extremely wide (worst in the set), indicating high historical volatility and risk of snapback. Industrials sector not in top-3 leadership. Downgraded to B. Conviction: Low - explosive move on wide base is low-quality setup prone to reversal.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

17% surge on EARNINGS TODAY likely beat and/or raised guidance on energy transition and government infrastructure project strength. Forward catalyst: management commentary on 2027 backlog conversion and margin trajectory will drive follow-through; any incremental defense or nuclear project wins in coming weeks extend move.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Fluor is a global engineering and construction firm serving energy, chemicals, infrastructure, mining, and government end markets. The company is pivoting toward higher-margin advisory and capital-light models while benefiting from energy transition and government project awards.

FACTOR & THEME

Infrastructure, energy transition, and reshoring tailwinds. Exposure to nuclear (SMR projects), LNG export facilities, and government defense infrastructure creates secular growth path as projects move from backlog to revenue.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $57.27 on vol >388% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume at 3.88x on earnings print is above-average but not extreme; likely institutional rebalancing on the print. $8B market cap with 137.5M float provides adequate liquidity for funds. No insider buying in last 90 days is neutral given blackout windows.

EARNINGS

EARNINGS TODAY

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Earnings TODAY - the 17% move is the market's reaction to Q2 results. Consensus and beat history not provided, but the move suggests beat and/or improved margin guidance.

KEY RISK

Thesis fails on a close below $54.00, or if intraday earnings call reveals project delays, margin compression, or any negative commentary on 2027 conversion rates.

ANALYSIS

Strong earnings-driven move with prox_52w 99.3, but RS line NOT at new high disqualifies from A-grade. Above $10B mkt cap (outside SMID sweet spot) and RS vs SPY at only +27 vs peers with +40-160 signals lagging leadership. Conviction: Low - solid company but setup lacks the relative strength and technical confirmation for high-conviction follow-through.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

13% surge on extreme volume (29x) suggests institutional block buying or partnership announcement in ad-verification vertical. Forward catalyst: November 5 earnings where guidance on digital ad spend recovery and CTV measurement growth will be key; any incremental platform wins (Google, Meta, Amazon) extend thesis.

BUSINESS & POSITION

DoubleVerify provides digital media measurement and fraud-prevention software, ensuring ad quality and viewability across display, video, social, and CTV. The company benefits from programmatic ad growth and regulatory push for transparency.

FACTOR & THEME

Digital advertising infrastructure theme, levered to CTV and social media ad-spend recovery. Benefits from brand-safety concerns (election cycle, regulatory scrutiny) driving demand for verification.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $13.22 on vol >2902% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume at 29.02x (highest in set) with large float (121.9M) indicates major institutional accumulation - this is not retail. Lack of insider buying is notable but not disqualifying given the institutional volume profile.

EARNINGS

EARNINGS IN 90D

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Next print November 5, 90 days out. Digital ad-verification names typically guide conservatively; the volume surge suggests either a pre-announcement or large contract win not yet disclosed.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on a close below $12.00, or if November 5 earnings show decelerating growth in social/CTV measurement, or any platform disintermediation risk (e.g., platforms building in-house verification).

ANALYSIS

Volume at 29x is the strongest institutional signal in the set, but prox_52w at only 80.4 and RS line NOT at new high disqualifies from A-grade. Communication Services sector not in leadership. Conviction: Medium - the volume is compelling but technical setup is incomplete; this is an early-stage accumulation, not a breakout.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

14% move on volume (3.67x) suggests licensing deal or retail channel expansion (Target, Walmart reset). Forward catalyst: November 5 earnings where holiday guidance and any Disney/Marvel/IP partnership renewals will drive follow-through.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Funko designs and sells licensed pop-culture collectibles (Pop! vinyl figures) across entertainment, sports, and gaming franchises. The company is levered to IP licensing cycles and retail foot traffic.

FACTOR & THEME

Consumer discretionary with exposure to entertainment franchises (Marvel, Star Wars, gaming). Benefits from any theatrical release cycles or collector demand, but faces secular headwind from digital entertainment and retail channel risk.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $6.04 on vol >367% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume at 3.67x is modest; small float (37.2M) provides squeeze potential but move lacks institutional hallmark. No insider buying in last 90 days is neutral.

EARNINGS

EARNINGS IN 90D

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Next print November 5, 90 days out. Company has faced margin pressure from excess inventory and retail destocking; the move suggests either a new IP deal or early holiday order strength.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on a close below $5.50, or if November 5 earnings show continued inventory issues or weak holiday guidance amid consumer spending uncertainty.

ANALYSIS

Prox_52w at 86.0 in breakout zone with tight base (3.18) meets B-grade criteria. Consumer Cyclical sector not in top-3 leadership; RS vs SPY at only +9.9 is weak vs peers. Conviction: Low - setup is adequate but lacks catalyst clarity and sector tailwind.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

9% move on 5.17x volume suggests either a new OEM contract (bike, ATV, side-by-side) or channel checks showing powersports inventory clearing. Forward catalyst: November 5 earnings where management will guide on OEM order trends and any margin recovery from mix shift.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Fox Factory manufactures premium suspension systems, shocks, and performance components for mountain bikes, powersports (ATVs, UTVs, snowmobiles), and automotive aftermarket. The company is levered to discretionary recreation spending and OEM order cycles.

FACTOR & THEME

Consumer discretionary with powersports and outdoor recreation exposure. Benefits from any normalization in bike/ATV inventory and return of dealer orders, but faces secular headwind from e-bike competition and consumer pullback.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $20.54 on vol >517% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume at 5.17x with small float (41.6M) provides modest squeeze potential. No insider buying in last 90 days is neutral; insiders may be waiting for full cycle confirmation.

EARNINGS

EARNINGS IN 90D

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Next print November 5, 90 days out. Company has faced destocking and margin pressure; the move suggests either a major OEM win or early signs of order recovery.

KEY RISK

Thesis fails on a close below $19.00, or if November 5 earnings show continued OEM weakness or any bike/powersports demand deterioration amid consumer spending slowdown.

ANALYSIS

Tight base (2.9, best in set) with vol surge meets B-grade criteria, but prox_52w at only 66.8 (well below breakout zone) and weak RS (+10.5) indicate incomplete setup. Consumer Cyclical sector not in leadership. Conviction: Low - this is early-stage base-building, not a live breakout.

Signal: Close above $20.54 on vol >517% of 20d avg
