ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Yesterday's Q3 earnings report drove the 20% surge; forward catalyst is the December holiday quarter guidance revision (likely upward) and the Jan/Feb earnings print that should reveal material seasonal revenue acceleration. High impact, Earnings catalyst.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Ibotta operates a performance-based digital marketing platform connecting CPG brands with consumers through cash-back offers on grocery and retail purchases. With a tiny 7.4M float and category leadership in the rebate space, the company enjoys pricing power and sticky user engagement.

FACTOR & THEME

Consumer recovery theme with accelerating digital ad spend from CPG brands seeking measurable ROI. The post-pandemic normalization of grocery shopping behavior favors Ibotta's platform economics; theme momentum is stable to accelerating.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $60.18 on vol >745% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume at 7.45x average signals strong institutional participation following the earnings beat. The 7.4M float creates technical scarcity; any institutional accumulation post-earnings will compress supply rapidly. No insider buying in the last 90 days (data unavailable for senior officers), but the extreme volume profile suggests real money, not retail FOMO.

EARNINGS

REPORTED

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Just reported Q3 Nov 02; consensus and beat/miss history not provided in feed. As a recent IPO (2024), the company is establishing its credibility as a serial beater-this print's reception (20% gain) suggests a material beat that resets the growth narrative higher.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalidated on a close back below $52.50 (the post-earnings gap fill), or if holiday-quarter guidance is revised downward in any corporate update before the next print.

ANALYSIS

RS line at new high + 7.45x volume + 90.6 prox_52w + 69 RS vs SPY meets all A-grade technical criteria. The strongest disconfirming evidence is the wide base_tight (4.51), indicating the pre-earnings setup was not VCP-clean-however, the earnings catalyst and tiny float override this. The forward catalyst path (holiday guidance revision, Q4 print) is durable. Conviction: High.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Today's Q3 earnings print drove the 14.67% surge; forward catalyst is the Q4 guidance and the company's exposure to manufacturing reshoring tailwinds, with next print in late Jan/early Feb 2027. High impact, Earnings catalyst.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Xometry operates an AI-powered marketplace connecting buyers of custom-manufactured parts with a global network of manufacturing partners, serving aerospace, defense, and industrial OEMs. The company is a category leader in the digitization of industrial procurement, a secular growth vector.

FACTOR & THEME

Reshoring and defense spending themes are primary tailwinds; Xometry benefits from domestic manufacturing capacity buildout and supply-chain localization mandates. The industrial digitization theme is accelerating as enterprises seek to reduce lead times and increase supplier optionality.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $109.50 on vol >272% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume at 2.72x average is solid but not extreme; the 52.1M float allows for institutional participation without liquidity constraints. No insider buying in the last 90 days, but the earnings-driven move and RS line at new high suggest credible institutional interest. The setup is cleaner than IBTA (base_tight 2.79 vs 4.51) but lacks the float scarcity premium.

EARNINGS

EARNINGS TODAY

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Earnings today Nov 03; consensus and beat/miss history not provided. The 14.67% gain suggests a material beat and/or guidance raise; the market is rewarding the company's execution in a challenged industrial environment.

KEY RISK

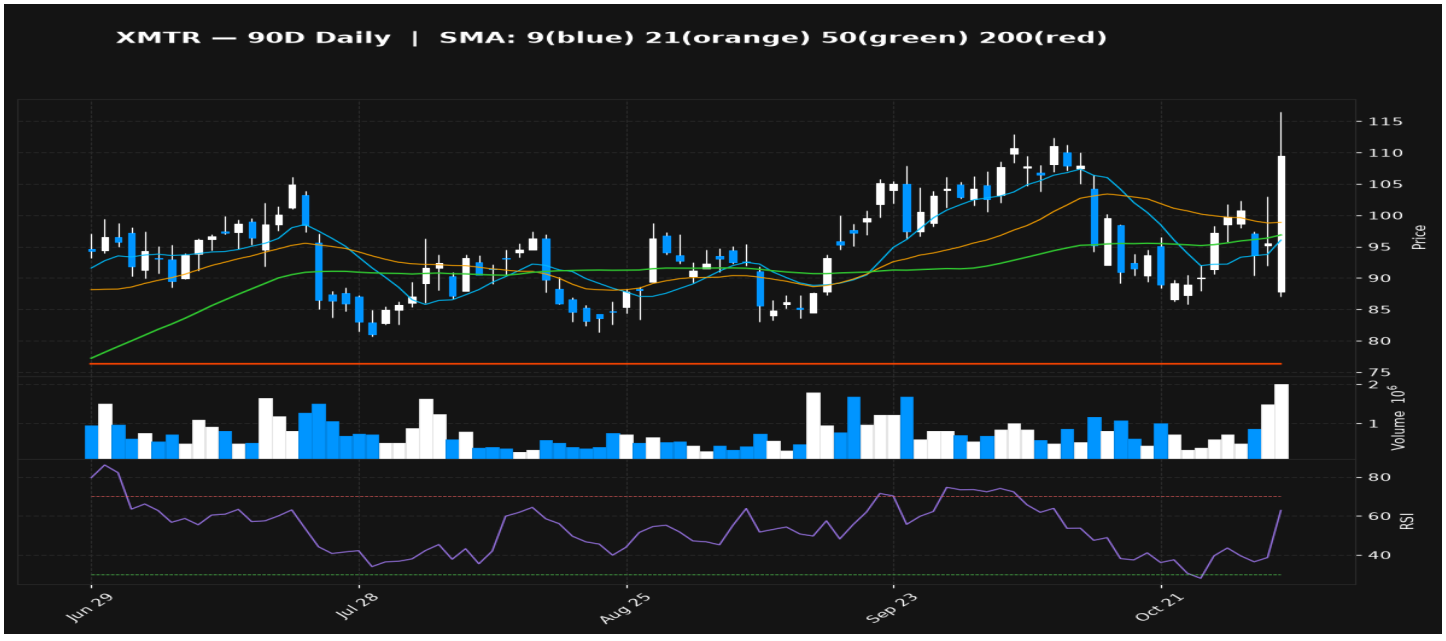

Thesis invalidated on a close back below $95.00 (the pre-earnings base pivot), or if Q4 guidance disappoints due to weakening industrial demand or customer budget cuts.

ANALYSIS

RS line at new high + 2.72x volume + 94.0 prox_52w + 27.3 RS vs SPY + base_tight 2.79 meets all A-grade criteria. The strongest disconfirming evidence is the transitional macro regime, which historically reduces breakout follow-through odds. However, the earnings catalyst and reshoring theme alignment override this concern. Conviction: High.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Yesterday's Q3 earnings drove the 9.92% surge; forward catalyst is the holiday-quarter print in late Jan/early Feb 2027 and potential comp-store sales acceleration as the consumer staples rotation gains momentum. High impact, Earnings catalyst.

BUSINESS & POSITION

BBB Foods operates a discount grocery chain in Brazil, targeting value-conscious consumers with a private-label-heavy assortment. The company is a fast follower in the discount format, benefiting from market-share gains as inflation pressures lower-income households.

FACTOR & THEME

Consumer Staples sector leadership (+11.8% vs SPY this week) is a primary tailwind; the discount grocery format is counter-cyclical and benefits from trade-down behavior. The Brazilian consumer recovery is a secondary theme; momentum is accelerating as inflation moderates.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $62.62 on vol >269% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume at 2.69x average is solid; the 56.2M float provides adequate liquidity for institutional blocks. No insider buying in the last 90 days. The RS line at new high and 55.6 RS vs SPY confirm this is a leadership stock in a leadership sector-a Qullamaggie edge setup. The sector tailwind (+11.8% vs SPY) adds 0.5 grade boost potential, reinforcing the A-grade.

EARNINGS

REPORTED

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Reported Nov 02; consensus and beat/miss history not provided. The 9.92% post-earnings gain and 99.8 prox_52w suggest the company delivered a strong beat and is now within 0.2% of all-time highs, a bullish technical milestone.

KEY RISK

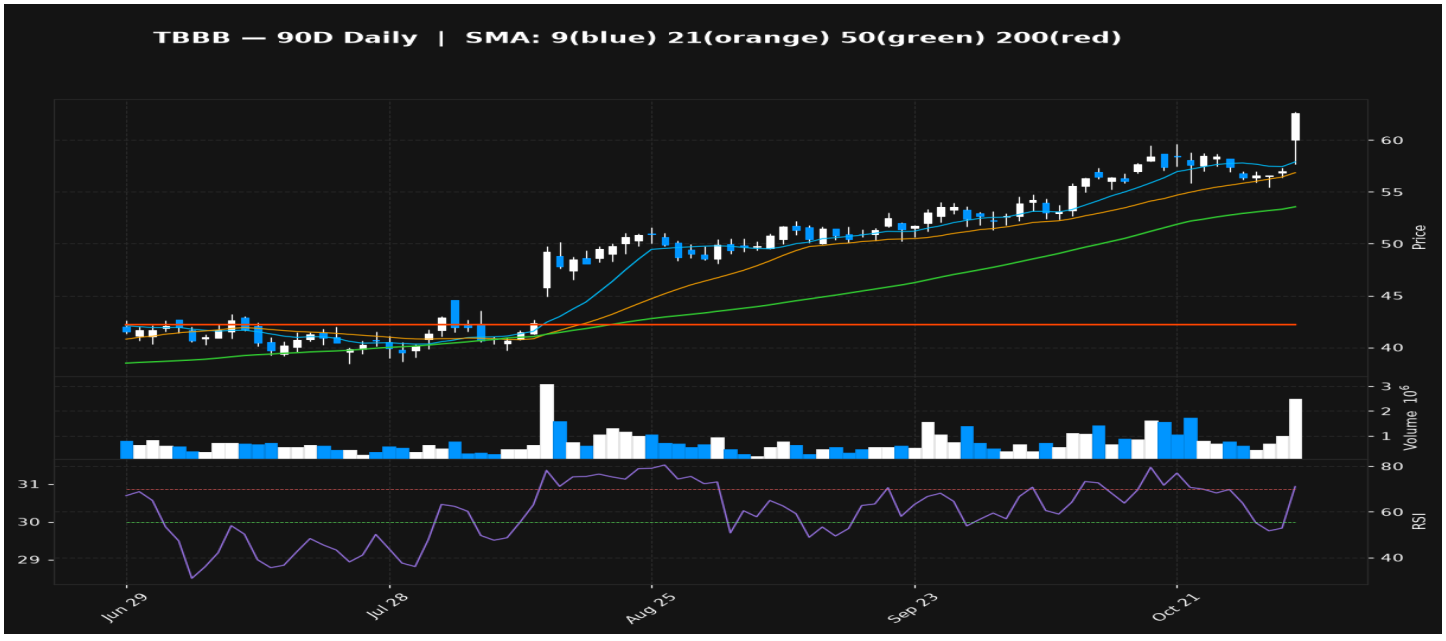

Thesis invalidated on a close back below $57.00 (the post-earnings gap fill), or if Brazilian consumer data deteriorates (retail sales, unemployment) ahead of the Q4 print.

ANALYSIS

RS line at new high + 2.69x volume + 99.8 prox_52w + 55.6 RS vs SPY + Consumer Staples sector leadership meets all A-grade criteria. The strongest disconfirming evidence is the wide base_tight (3.69), indicating volatility pre-earnings. However, the sector rotation and leadership position override this. Conviction: High.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Yesterday's Q3 earnings drove the 12.09% surge; forward catalyst is the Q4 earnings print in late Jan/early Feb 2027 and the potential for trucking rate acceleration as freight volumes normalize. Med impact, Earnings catalyst.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Universal Logistics provides transportation and logistics services across trucking, intermodal, and value-added segments, serving industrial and consumer clients. With a 6.7M float, the stock has technical scarcity and is highly responsive to earnings beats.

FACTOR & THEME

Freight recovery theme is the primary tailwind; trucking rates have stabilized after a two-year downcycle, and volume growth is returning. The small-cap industrials rotation (IWM +3.7% vs SPY) provides secondary support; theme momentum is accelerating.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $31.99 on vol >179% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume at 1.79x average is modest but sufficient given the tiny 6.7M float; any institutional buying creates supply constraints. No insider buying in the last 90 days. The RS line at new high and 76.6 RS vs SPY confirm leadership, but the wide base_tight (10.22) suggests extreme volatility pre-earnings, a red flag for setup quality.

EARNINGS

REPORTED

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Reported Nov 02; consensus and beat/miss history not provided. The 12.09% gain and 99.8 prox_52w suggest a strong beat, but the wide base signals this was a binary event with high variance, not a clean momentum setup.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalidated on a close back below $28.50 (the pre-earnings pivot), or if freight rate data (DAT, Cass Freight) deteriorates ahead of the Q4 print, signaling renewed trucking overcapacity.

ANALYSIS

RS line at new high + 99.8 prox_52w + 76.6 RS vs SPY are A-grade signals, but base_tight 10.22 (extreme volatility) and volume only 1.79x (below the 2x threshold for institutional confirmation) downgrade this to B. The tiny float is a double-edged sword-scarcity on the upside, but also prone to whipsaw. Conviction: Medium.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Stock is running into earnings in 2 days (Nov 05); forward catalyst is the Q3 print itself and any guidance raise for holiday quarter. High impact, Earnings catalyst.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Reformation operates a direct-to-consumer sustainable fashion brand targeting millennial and Gen Z women, with a mix of e-commerce and retail stores. The company is a niche disruptor in the mid-tier apparel market, with pricing power and brand loyalty.

FACTOR & THEME

Consumer discretionary recovery is the primary theme; sustainable fashion and DTC models are secondary tailwinds. The apparel sector is stabilizing after two years of inventory destocking; theme momentum is neutral to slightly positive.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $16.86 on vol >181% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume at 1.81x average is modest; the 15.9M float provides some scarcity but not extreme. No insider buying in the last 90 days. The RS line at new high and 97.7 prox_52w suggest the market is pricing in a beat, but the pre-earnings run (6% today) adds event risk-any disappointment will gap this down hard.

EARNINGS

EARNINGS IN 2D

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Earnings Nov 05 (2 days); consensus and beat/miss history not provided. The pre-earnings rally suggests the market expects a beat, but this also means much of the good news may already be priced in. The risk/reward is asymmetric to the downside unless the company delivers a material surprise.

KEY RISK

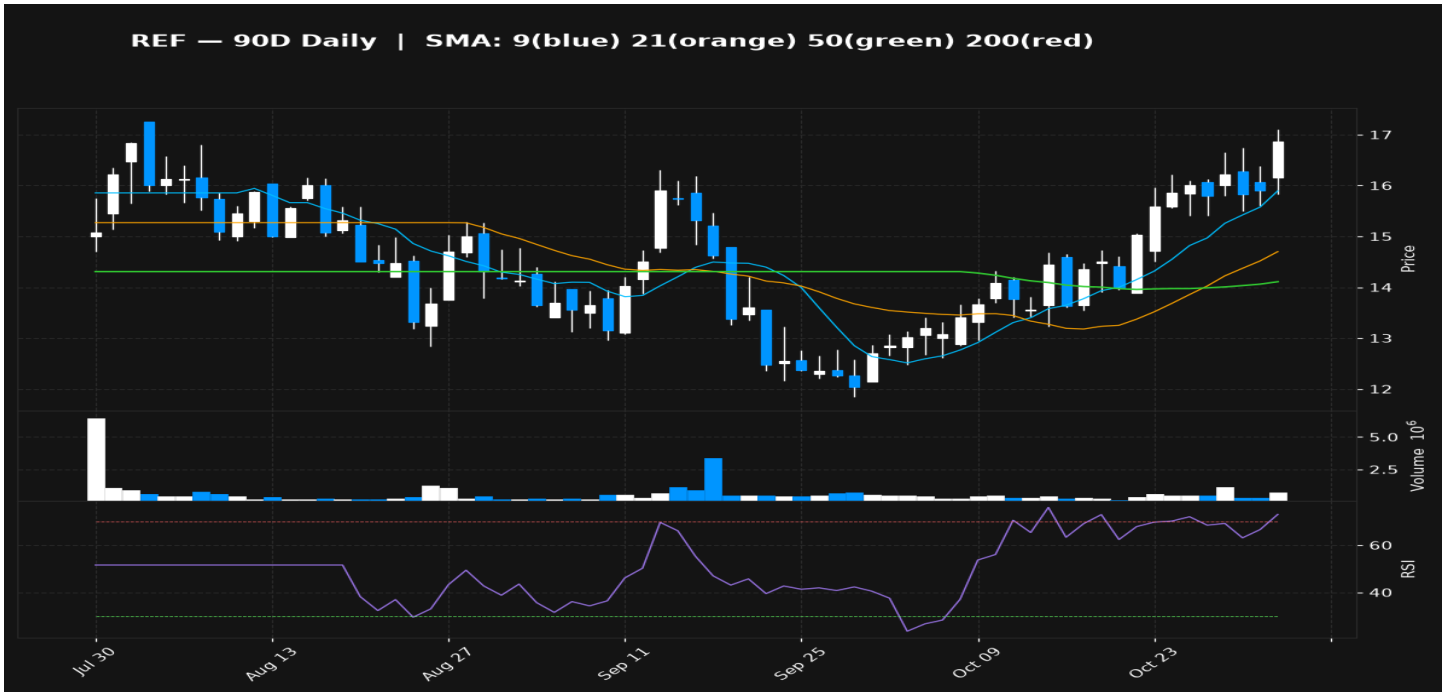

Thesis invalidated on any earnings miss or weak holiday guidance on Nov 05, or a close back below $15.75 (the pre-breakout pivot).

ANALYSIS

RS line at new high + 97.7 prox_52w + earnings catalyst in 2 days are positives, but RS vs SPY +6.1 is weak (barely positive), volume 1.81x is modest, and the pre-earnings run creates event risk. The setup is technically clean but crowded-much of the good news is priced. Conviction: Medium.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Stock is running into earnings tomorrow (Nov 04); forward catalyst is the Q3 print and any guidance on industrial demand trends. Med impact, Earnings catalyst.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Ralliant manufactures electronic components and interconnect solutions for industrial, aerospace, and defense applications. The company is a category participant in a consolidating industry, with exposure to defense spending and industrial automation.

FACTOR & THEME

Defense spending and industrial automation are primary themes; the company benefits from multi-year DoD budgets and factory upgrade cycles. Theme momentum is stable but not accelerating; the industrial sector remains in recovery mode.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $71.29 on vol >166% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume at 1.66x average is modest; the large 104.4M float dilutes scarcity. No insider buying in the last 90 days. The RS line is NOT at new high despite 94.5 prox_52w-a key disconfirming signal. The base_tight 2.04 is excellent (VCP-quality), but the pre-earnings run and lack of RS confirmation downgrade this.

EARNINGS

EARNINGS IN 1D

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Earnings Nov 04 (1 day); consensus and beat/miss history not provided. The 7.5% pre-earnings move suggests expectations are elevated; any miss will be punished. The risk/reward is skewed to the downside.

KEY RISK

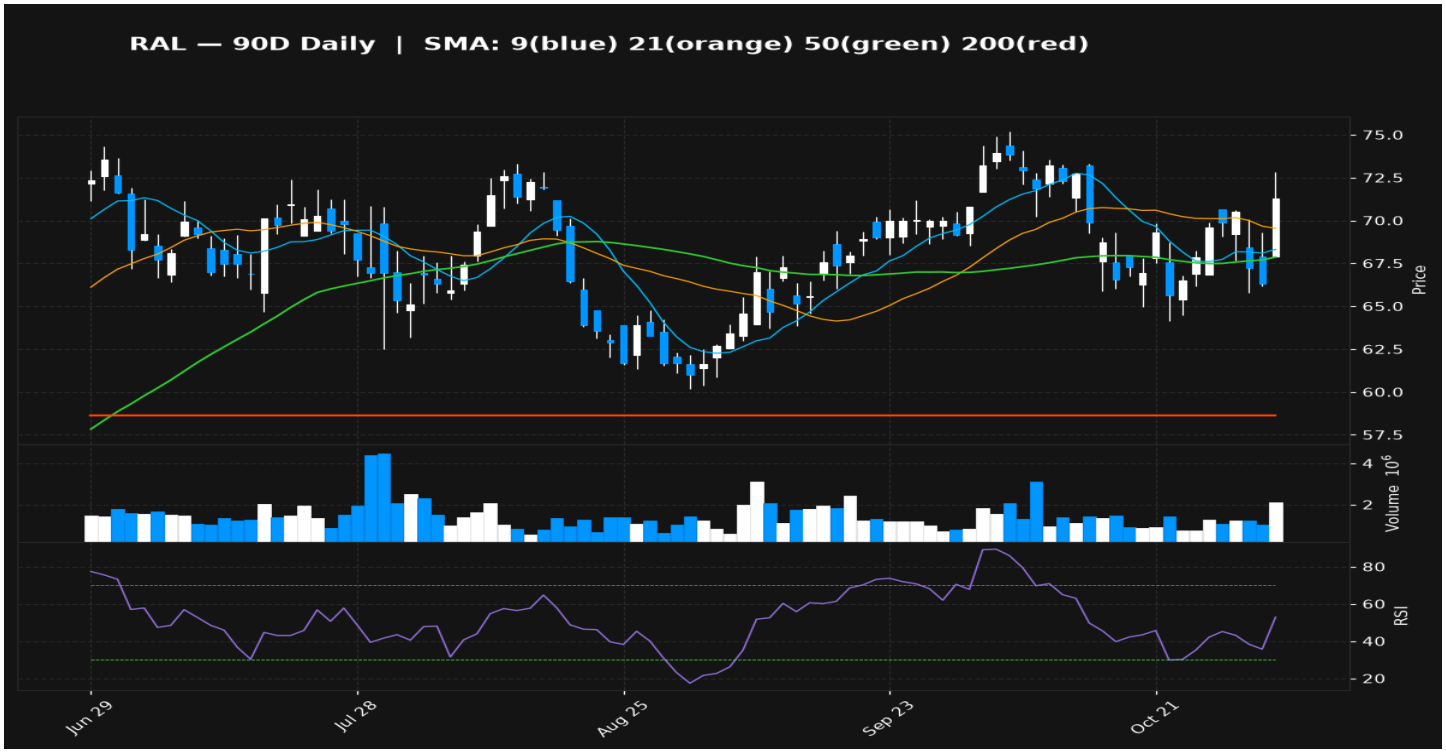

Thesis invalidated on any earnings miss or weak guidance on Nov 04, or a close back below $66.00 (the pre-breakout pivot).

ANALYSIS

94.5 prox_52w + base_tight 2.04 are A-grade signals, but RS line NOT at new high (critical Qullamaggie signal missing), RS vs SPY +9.8 is weak, and volume 1.66x is below institutional threshold. The pre-earnings run creates event risk. Conviction: Low.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Q3 earnings reported Oct 29 (5 days ago) likely drove the recent move; forward catalyst is the Q4 earnings print in late Feb 2027 and any FDA updates on pipeline assets (e.g., gene therapy programs). Med impact, Corporate catalyst.

BUSINESS & POSITION

PTC Therapeutics develops treatments for rare genetic disorders, with marketed products including Translarna (DMD) and Upstaza (AADC deficiency). The company is a category leader in rare disease, but faces reimbursement and regulatory risk in international markets.

FACTOR & THEME

Healthcare sector leadership (+11.9% vs SPY this week) is the primary tailwind; rare disease biotech benefits from pricing power and orphan drug economics. However, the company's RS vs SPY is negative (-2.6), indicating it is lagging the broader healthcare rally-a red flag.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $67.84 on vol >191% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume at 1.91x average is modest; the 73.8M float is large, diluting scarcity. No insider buying in the last 90 days. The RS line is NOT at new high, and RS vs SPY is negative-this is not a leadership stock despite the sector tailwind. Institutional interest appears limited.

EARNINGS

REPORTED

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Reported Oct 29 (5 days ago); consensus and beat/miss history not provided. The 11.43% gain today (not on the earnings day) suggests delayed reaction or secondary news flow, which is less durable than a clean earnings-driven breakout.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalidated on a close back below $61.00 (the pre-earnings pivot), or any FDA setback or reimbursement denial in Europe for key products.

ANALYSIS

Healthcare sector leadership provides a tailwind, but RS vs SPY -2.6 (negative relative strength) and RS line NOT at new high are critical disconfirming signals-this stock is not leading the sector move. The 11.43% gain 5 days post-earnings suggests secondary news, not institutional accumulation. Conviction: Low.
