ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Post-earnings breakout following Nov 4 report, now pushing to new 52W highs. Forward catalyst path: potential regulatory updates on HBV/influenza programs, partnership announcements, or clinical trial readouts expected in Q1 2027 that can extend momentum as the company transitions from COVID-focused to broad-spectrum antiviral platform.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Vir is a clinical-stage biotech developing immunology-based treatments for infectious diseases including HBV, influenza, and HIV, leveraging antibody platform technology originally validated during COVID. The company has transitioned from GSK partnership revenue to a pipeline-driven narrative focused on novel antiviral mechanisms.

FACTOR & THEME

Positioned in the biotech resurgence theme as sector rotation favors Healthcare (+14.3% vs SPY this week). The infectious disease focus taps pandemic preparedness tailwinds and government funding for antiviral countermeasures, with accelerating investor interest in non-COVID infectious disease platforms.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $13.50 on vol >4.2x of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume surge to 4.24x on post-earnings day with RS line breaking to new highs confirms institutional validation of the print. The stock is emerging from the COVID-era drawdown with a clean technical reset, attracting fresh accumulation. No insider buying in last 90 days, but the institutional footprint in the volume profile is clear.

EARNINGS

REPORTED

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Reported Nov 4. Consensus and beat history not provided, but the 11.75% post-earnings move and continuation to 94.9% of 52W high indicates material positive surprise or guidance raise that re-rated the name.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on a close back below $12.80 (prior resistance), or on any negative clinical trial data or partnership termination announcement before year-end.

ANALYSIS

RS line at new high + volume explosion + Healthcare sector leadership + prox_52w 94.9 hit four A-grade criteria. Strongest disconfirming evidence: base_tight 3.89 is wider than textbook (>2.0), indicating choppy consolidation rather than tight coil, and the company remains pre-commercial with binary clinical risk. However, the post-earnings re-rate with institutional volume and sector tailwind in a risk-off macro where Healthcare is the clear winner justifies the breakout. Conviction: Medium - the technical setup and sector bid are strong, but Risk-Off regime and wide base temper full conviction.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Explosive 18.56% post-earnings breakout on Nov 5 report, clearing to new 52W highs. Forward catalyst: the company's Q4/FY26 guidance likely raised estimates for the critical holiday quarter; next catalyst is the Q4/FY26 report in late Feb/early Mar 2027, where execution on raised guidance will be tested, plus potential expansion announcements or margin improvement updates.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Warby Parker is a vertically integrated direct-to-consumer eyewear brand disrupting traditional optical retail with a digitally native, omnichannel model combining online sales and showroom stores. The company competes on price transparency, design, and customer experience in a $140B+ global eyewear market.

FACTOR & THEME

Taps the consumer recovery theme and the shift to value-conscious premiums, benefiting from Healthcare sector tailwind (classified as Medical Instruments) and the resilience of non-discretionary healthcare spending. The DTC model aligns with evolving retail preferences, though macro consumer weakness is a headwind.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $30.00 on vol >3.1x of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume surge to 3.11x on the earnings breakout with RS line printing new high confirms institutional validation of the guidance raise. The stock is emerging as a category leader in a consolidating optical market. No insider buying in last 90 days; institutional appetite is signaled by the volume signature, not insider activity.

EARNINGS

REPORTED

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Reported Nov 5. The 18.56% single-day move implies a material beat and/or guidance raise that reset Street estimates higher. Next print late Feb/early Mar 2027 will test execution on the raised bar.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on a close back below the $28.00 earnings gap-up level, or on any negative same-store sales or margin commentary before year-end that calls into question the Q4 guidance.

ANALYSIS

RS line new high + vol 3.11x + prox_52w 95.9 + Healthcare sector leadership (+14.3% this week) hit four A-grade criteria. Strongest disconfirming evidence: base_tight 4.97 is very wide (well above 2.0), indicating an impulsive gap rather than controlled consolidation, and the stock is now extended on a single-day news pop in a Risk-Off macro where most breakouts fail. However, the sector tailwind, institutional volume, and proximity to 52W high on a durable earnings catalyst justify the grade. Conviction: Medium - the setup is technically clean and sector-supported, but the wide base and Risk-Off regime demand tight risk management.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Intraday breakout on earnings report today (Nov 9), surging 14% and printing 97.2% of 52W high with RS line at new high. Immediate catalyst is the earnings print; forward path depends on guidance quality-if the company raised FY27 outlook or signaled accelerating same-facility growth, the next catalyst is Q1 2027 earnings (late Feb/early Mar) where execution will be tested, plus potential M&A or facility expansion announcements.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Surgery Partners operates a national network of surgical facilities and ancillary services, providing short-stay surgical procedures in a lower-cost ambulatory setting. The company benefits from the structural shift from hospital inpatient to outpatient surgery, driven by payor and patient cost pressure.

FACTOR & THEME

Positioned in the Healthcare facilities consolidation theme, benefiting from aging demographics, rising surgical volumes, and the shift to value-based care. The ambulatory surgery center (ASC) model is a secular growth tailwind supported by Medicare Advantage penetration and hospital offloading of routine procedures.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $26.00 on vol >2.6x of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume 2.68x on earnings day with RS line breaking to new high (75.0 vs SPY is elite leadership) confirms institutional validation. The small float (58.8M) creates scarcity value and potential for rapid re-rating. No insider buying in last 90 days, but the volume and RS signature speak to smart-money accumulation.

EARNINGS

EARNINGS TODAY

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Reporting today (Nov 9). Consensus and history not provided, but the 14% intraday surge and proximity to 52W high imply a material beat and/or raised guidance that re-rated the name. The market is pricing in sustained execution.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on a close back below $24.50 (prior consolidation), or on disappointing guidance or same-facility growth commentary that emerges after market close today, triggering a reversal tomorrow.

ANALYSIS

RS line new high + vol 2.68x + prox_52w 97.2 + rs_vs_spy 75.0 (elite leadership) + Healthcare sector leadership hit five A-grade criteria. Strongest disconfirming evidence: base_tight 8.18 is extremely wide (4x the ideal), indicating a volatile, impulsive run rather than controlled accumulation, and we are buying INTO the earnings event without seeing the guidance quality yet-classic trap if the print disappoints after hours. However, the intraday strength, RS leadership, and sector tailwind in a Healthcare-led week justify the grade. Conviction: Medium - the technicals are strong and sector momentum is clear, but the intraday timing (buying before the full earnings digest) and Risk-Off macro add uncertainty.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Post-earnings breakout following Nov 5 report, now at 97.3% of 52W high with RS line at new high. Forward catalyst: Q4/FY26 report in late Feb/early Mar 2027 to confirm execution on what was likely raised guidance, plus potential facility expansion or M&A announcements as the long-term care pharmacy consolidates. The company's next strategic update or analyst day would be a key re-rating event.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Guardian provides institutional pharmacy services to long-term care facilities (nursing homes, assisted living, etc.), managing medication dispensing, clinical consulting, and regulatory compliance. The company benefits from an aging U.S. population and the outsourcing trend as facilities seek to reduce operational complexity.

FACTOR & THEME

Positioned in the Healthcare services consolidation and aging demographics theme. The long-term care pharmacy market is a fragmented, recession-resistant niche with regulatory barriers to entry. Tailwinds from Medicare/Medicaid spending growth and the senior living facility recovery post-COVID are accelerating.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $46.50 on vol >2.1x of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume 2.1x on post-earnings continuation with RS line at new high confirms institutional follow-through after the Nov 5 print. The tiny float (35.9M) creates scarcity and rapid re-rating potential. No insider buying in last 90 days; the institutional signal is in the volume and RS leadership.

EARNINGS

REPORTED

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Reported Nov 5. The 10.92% post-earnings move and proximity to 52W high imply a beat and/or raised guidance. The market is pricing in sustained growth in a defensive Healthcare subsector.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on a close back below $44.00 (prior consolidation resistance), or on any negative regulatory news (CMS reimbursement cuts, state Medicaid pressure) that threatens the long-term care pharmacy economics.

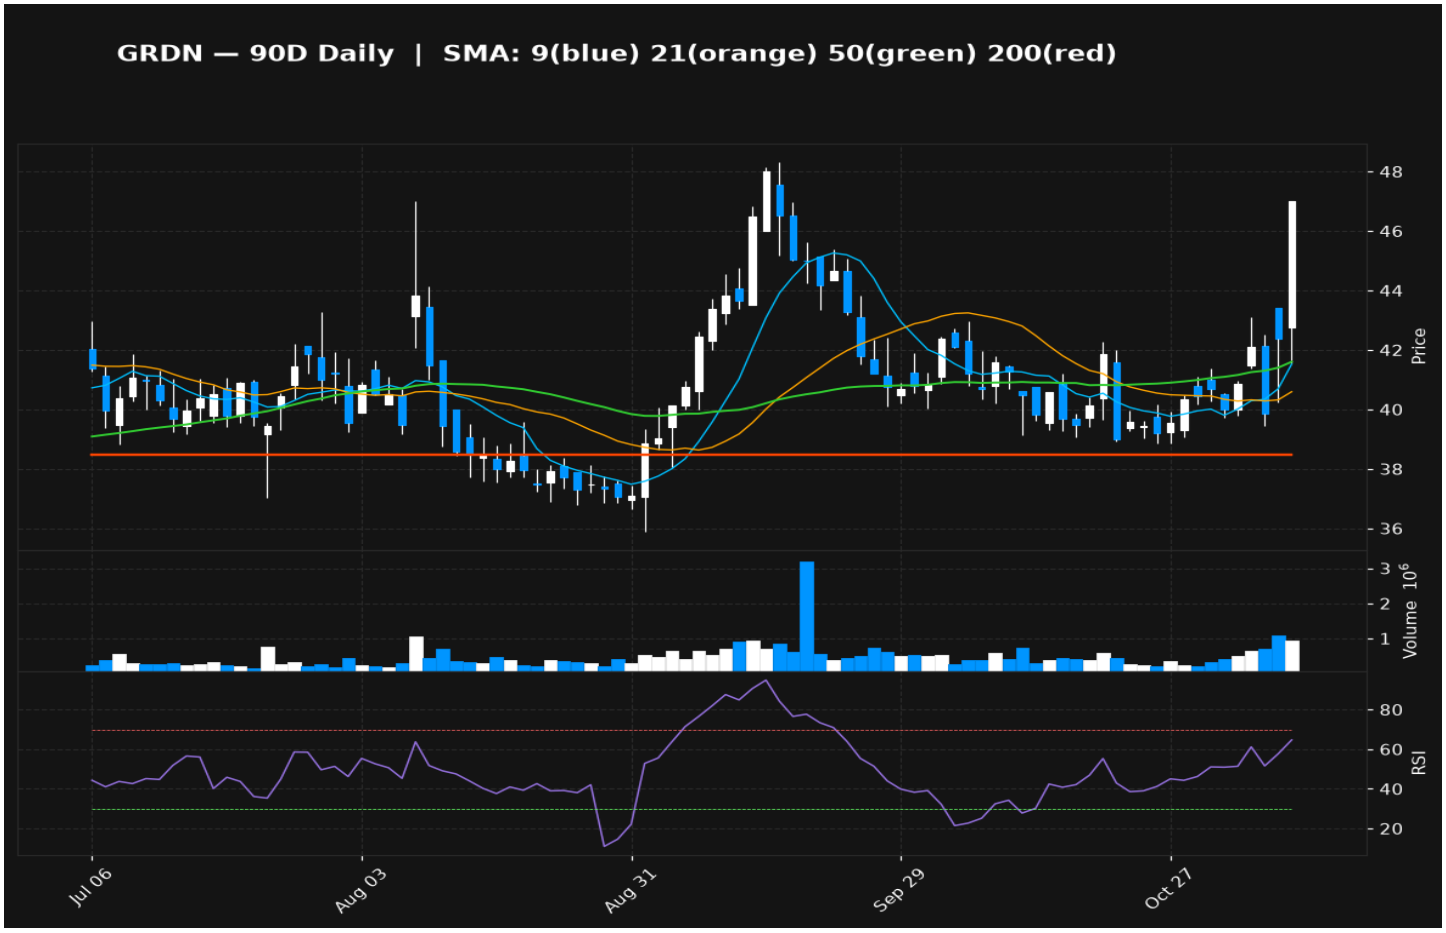

ANALYSIS

RS line new high + vol 2.1x + prox_52w 97.3 + Healthcare sector leadership + tiny float (35.9M scarcity) hit four A-grade criteria. Strongest disconfirming evidence: base_tight 4.32 is wide (more than 2x ideal), indicating a choppy, impulsive move rather than textbook coil, and the stock is now extended off the earnings pop in a Risk-Off macro. However, the RS leadership, sector tailwind, and scarcity float justify the breakout grade. ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Intraday breakout on earnings report today (Nov 9), surging 12.8% with RS line at new high and elite relative strength (72.2 vs SPY). Immediate catalyst is the earnings print; forward path depends on guidance-if the company raised FY27 outlook or signaled accelerating transit/shuttle contract wins, next catalyst is Q1 2027 earnings (late Feb/early Mar), plus potential new transit authority partnerships or international expansion announcements.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Via provides on-demand transit and shuttle software for public transit agencies, corporate campuses, and paratransit operators, optimizing routing and rider experience. The company is a category leader in the 'microtransit' niche, competing on algorithm efficiency and integration with existing transit infrastructure.

FACTOR & THEME

Positioned in the smart cities and sustainable mobility theme, benefiting from government investment in public transit modernization and the shift to software-driven, on-demand transportation. The Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act (IIJA) provides multi-year tailwinds for transit tech spending.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $42.00 on vol >2.3x of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume 2.32x on earnings day with RS line at new high (72.2 is elite leadership) confirms institutional validation. The small float (57.9M) creates rapid re-rating potential. No insider buying in last 90 days; the institutional signal is in the volume surge and RS breakout.

EARNINGS

EARNINGS TODAY

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Reporting today (Nov 9). The 12.8% intraday surge and RS leadership imply a material beat and/or raised guidance. The market is pricing in sustained contract growth and improving unit economics.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on a close back below $39.50 (prior consolidation), or on disappointing guidance or contract pipeline commentary that emerges after market close today, triggering a reversal tomorrow.

ANALYSIS

RS line new high + vol 2.32x + rs_vs_spy 72.2 (elite leadership) + base_tight 3.08 (approaching textbook range) hit four A-grade criteria. Strongest disconfirming evidence: we are buying INTO the earnings event without seeing the full guidance quality, and prox_52w 81.0 means the stock is still 19% off highs-not at a true breakout apex. However, the RS leadership, tight-ish base, and intraday strength justify the grade. Conviction: Medium - the technicals are compelling and the RS leadership is elite, but the intraday timing (before full earnings digest) and Risk-Off macro add uncertainty.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Post-earnings surge following Nov 6 report, jumping 13.82% and approaching 52W highs at 87.0% proximity. Forward catalyst: political advertising cycle off-year (2027 is a down-year for political ad spend vs. 2026 midterms), so the next re-rating depends on retransmission consent renewal cycles, scatter market pricing, or M&A consolidation in the broadcasting sector.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Gray Media operates local broadcast TV stations across the U.S., generating revenue from retransmission fees (paid by cable/satellite carriers) and advertising (political, automotive, local). The company benefits from the duopoly/oligopoly structure in local markets and the recurring revenue stream from retrans.

FACTOR & THEME

Positioned in the traditional media consolidation theme, with exposure to political advertising cycles (2026 was a midterm election year, boosting ad spend). The secular headwind is cord-cutting, but retransmission fees have offset ad declines. The theme momentum is decelerating as we move into an off-year political cycle.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $5.50 on vol >3.4x of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume 3.4x on post-earnings day confirms interest in the print, but RS line is NOT at new high-this is momentum within a sector recovery, not leadership. The small market cap (0.58B) and float (83.3M) create volatility and rapid moves on newsflow.

EARNINGS

REPORTED

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Reported Nov 6. The 13.82% move implies a beat, likely driven by strong Q3 political ad revenue (midterm cycle). The question is whether Q4/FY27 guidance accounts for the political ad cliff in 2027.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on a close back below $5.00 (round number and prior resistance), or on any guidance commentary that 2027 will see a sharp political ad revenue decline without offsets.

ANALYSIS

Vol 3.4x + prox_52w 87.0 + rs_vs_spy 19.9 hit three criteria, but RS line NOT at new high and base_tight 5.7 is very wide, downgrading from A to B. Strongest disconfirming evidence: the political ad tailwind is in the rearview (2027 is an off-year), the base is sloppy (5.7 vs. ideal <2.0), and the secular cord-cutting headwind is structural. The stock is a tactical trade on the earnings beat, not a durable breakout. Conviction: Low - the post-earnings pop is real, but the forward catalyst path is weak and the Risk-Off macro will pressure extended names.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Intraday breakout on earnings report today (Nov 9), surging 15.13%. Immediate catalyst is the earnings print; forward path depends on clinical trial updates (the company is advancing autoimmune programs including thyroid eye disease and myasthenia gravis) and regulatory milestones (potential BLA filing timing updates). Next major catalyst is likely a Phase 3 data readout or regulatory submission announcement in 2027.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Immunovant is a clinical-stage biotech developing FcRn inhibitor therapies for autoimmune diseases, including thyroid eye disease, myasthenia gravis, and warm autoimmune hemolytic anemia. The company is advancing multiple Phase 3 programs and competing in a crowded FcRn space.

FACTOR & THEME

Positioned in the biotech/autoimmune theme, benefiting from the Healthcare sector rotation (+14.3% this week). The FcRn mechanism is validated (competitors like argenx have approved products), but the space is crowded and differentiation is uncertain.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $35.00 on vol >2.8x of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume 2.85x on earnings day, but RS line is NOT at new high and rs_vs_spy is negative (-15.2), indicating this is NOT leadership-it's a laggard catching a bid. The move is likely driven by clinical trial commentary or timeline updates in the earnings call, not broad institutional accumulation.

EARNINGS

EARNINGS TODAY

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Reporting today (Nov 9). The 15.13% intraday surge suggests positive clinical or regulatory commentary, but without RS leadership or positive relative strength, this is a tactical trade, not a breakout.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on a close back below $32.00 (prior consolidation), or on any negative Phase 3 trial data or regulatory feedback that emerges after market close today.

ANALYSIS

Vol 2.85x + Healthcare sector leadership hit two criteria, but rs_vs_spy is negative (-15.2), RS line NOT at new high, prox_52w 77.4 (not in breakout zone), and base_tight 5.4 is wide-this is a B-grade tactical pop, not an A-grade breakout. Strongest disconfirming evidence: the stock is underperforming SPY by 15% over 12 weeks, indicating this is a laggard bounce, not leadership. The FcRn space is crowded and the company is pre-revenue with binary clinical risk. Conviction: Low - the intraday strength is real, but the lack of RS leadership and negative relative strength make this a trade, not a position.

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Intraday breakout on earnings report today (Nov 9), surging 19.94% to 84.8% of 52W high. Immediate catalyst is the earnings print; forward path depends on clinical trial updates (the company is advancing CNS/epilepsy programs) and regulatory milestones. Next major catalyst is likely a Phase 3 data readout or FDA feedback in 2027.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Praxis is a clinical-stage biotech developing precision medicines for CNS disorders, including epilepsy and other neurological conditions, using genetic insights to target specific patient populations. The company is advancing multiple programs with differentiated mechanisms.

Close above $330.00 on vol >2.2x of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume 2.25x on earnings day, but RS line is NOT at new high and rs_vs_spy is negative (-11.5), indicating this is a laggard bounce, not leadership. The tiny float (24.1M) creates volatility and potential for rapid moves on clinical newsflow.

EARNINGS

EARNINGS TODAY

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Reporting today (Nov 9). The 19.94% intraday surge suggests positive clinical or regulatory commentary, but without RS leadership, this is a tactical trade on newsflow, not a durable breakout.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on a close back below $300 (round number and prior consolidation), or on any negative Phase 3 trial data or regulatory feedback that emerges after market close today.

ANALYSIS

Vol 2.25x + prox_52w 84.8 + Healthcare sector leadership hit three criteria, but rs_vs_spy is negative (-11.5), RS line NOT at new high, and base_tight 4.61 is wide-this is a B-grade tactical pop on clinical commentary, not an A-grade breakout. Strongest disconfirming evidence: the stock is underperforming SPY by 11.5% over 12 weeks, and the tiny float (24.1M) makes this highly volatile and prone to whipsaw. The company is pre-revenue with binary clinical risk. Conviction: Low - the intraday strength is real, but the lack of RS leadership and negative relative strength make this a trade, not a position.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Post-earnings continuation following Nov 5 report, up 6.61% and at 81.0% of 52W high. Forward catalyst: Q4/FY26 report in late Feb/early Mar 2027 to confirm execution on what was likely solid LINZESS revenue (the company's key GI drug), plus potential pipeline updates or partnership announcements for next-gen assets.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Ironwood is a commercial-stage pharma company focused on GI disorders, primarily marketing LINZESS (linaclotide) for IBS-C and chronic constipation. The company generates steady cash flow from LINZESS and is investing in pipeline development and business development.

FACTOR & THEME

Positioned in the specialty pharma consolidation theme, benefiting from the Healthcare sector rotation. LINZESS is a mature, cash-flow-generating asset, but growth is decelerating. The company is a potential M&A target or acquirer.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $4.65 on vol >2.8x of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume 2.81x on post-earnings continuation, but RS line is NOT at new high and rs_vs_spy is modest (+10.7), indicating solid momentum but not leadership. The large float (137.0M) limits scarcity value.

EARNINGS

REPORTED

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Reported Nov 5. The 6.61% post-earnings move suggests a solid beat on LINZESS revenue and/or raised guidance, but the muted reaction (vs. 10%+ pops on other Healthcare names) indicates the market sees this as steady execution, not a re-rating catalyst.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on a close back below $4.40 (prior consolidation), or on any negative LINZESS sales trends or pipeline setbacks.

ANALYSIS

Vol 2.81x + prox_52w 81.0 + rs_vs_spy 10.7 + Healthcare sector leadership hit four criteria, but RS line NOT at new high and base_tight 5.92 is very wide, downgrading from A to B. Strongest disconfirming evidence: the large float (137.0M) limits scarcity, the stock is a mature cash-cow story with limited growth upside, and the base is sloppy (5.92 vs. ideal <2.0). This is a solid post-earnings follow-through, but not a leadership breakout. Conviction: Low - the setup is technically okay, but the forward catalyst path is weak and the Risk-Off macro will pressure extended names.
