ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Yesterday's earnings report drove 7% pop; stock now at 52-week high signaling institutional validation. Forward catalyst: Q4 earnings in late January (~90d) during peak winter tanker demand season, plus potential special dividend announcements given sector cash flow strength.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Scorpio operates one of the youngest fleets of product tankers globally, transporting refined petroleum products. The company benefits from tight tanker supply (minimal newbuild orders) and elevated global refining activity driving strong day rates.

FACTOR & THEME

Energy sector leadership (+9.4% vs SPY this week) and geopolitical crude/product flow disruptions creating structural tanker demand. Theme momentum accelerating as winter demand approaches and Middle East tensions sustain ton-mile growth.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $95.00 on vol >1.76x of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume 1.76x on a post-earnings gap suggests institutional validation rather than retail chase. Tight float (38.3M) with strong RS (+21.1 vs SPY) indicates smart money positioning ahead of seasonally strong Q4. No insider data available; institutional ownership data not available from this feed-recommend cross-referencing 13F filings.

EARNINGS

REPORTED

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Just reported Oct 28; consensus and beat history unavailable but 7% post-earnings move signals positive surprise. Next print late January 2027 during peak winter tanker season.

KEY RISK

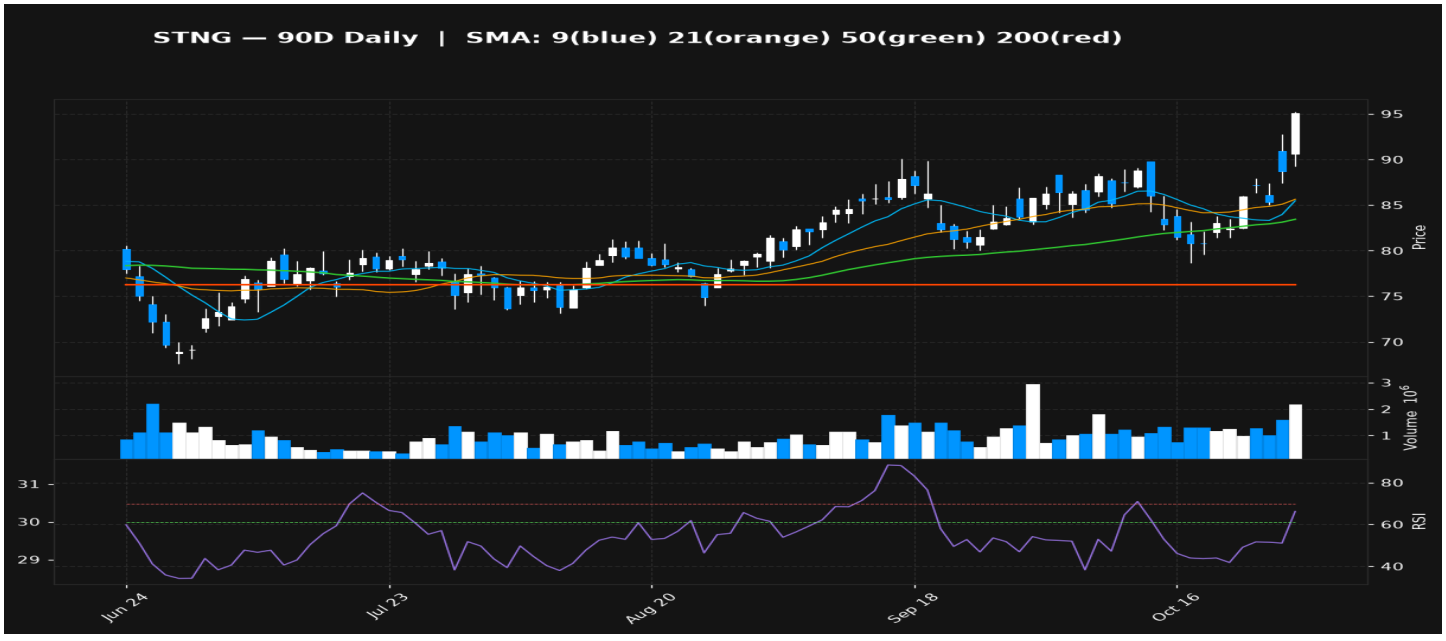

Thesis invalid on a close back below $88.50 (pre-earnings base), or if tanker day rates deteriorate materially into Q4 indicating demand weakness.

ANALYSIS

At 99.8% of 52-week high with exceptional RS (+21.1) and energy sector tailwind, but base_tight of 4.31 is wide (fails VCP criterion <2.0) and RS line is not at new high-missing the key Qullamaggie institutional confirmation signal. Post-earnings momentum is real but setup lacks the technical precision for A-grade. Energy sector bonus (+0.5) considered but technical flaws prevent upgrade. Strongest disconfirming evidence: wide base suggests volatility rather than controlled accumulation. Conviction: Medium.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Post-earnings move yesterday (Oct 28) on what appears to be a solid print given the 3.4% follow-through. Forward catalyst: CES 2027 in early January where IoT/supply-chain tech gets spotlight, plus Q1 guidance update in late January (~90d) as retail RFID adoption accelerates into spring inventory builds.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Impinj designs RAIN RFID chips and readers enabling item-level tracking across retail, supply chain, and logistics. The company holds dominant share in endpoint IC market and benefits from secular shift from barcodes to RFID in apparel, food, and general merchandise retail.

FACTOR & THEME

Taps IoT infrastructure build-out and supply-chain digitization themes. Retail RFID adoption inflecting (Walmart, Target mandates expanding). Theme momentum stable-to-accelerating as labor costs and inventory accuracy pressures drive ROI.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $182.50 on vol >1.87x of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume 1.87x with tight 29.6M float suggests institutional follow-through post-earnings rather than distribution. RS +11.3 vs SPY shows relative strength despite choppy semis. No insider buying in last 90 days; institutional ownership data not available-likely high given coverage by growth funds. Accumulation profile consistent with quality growth name.

EARNINGS

REPORTED

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Reported Oct 28; 3.4% post-earnings gain indicates beat or in-line with positive guidance. Next print likely late January 2027. Historical pattern: tends to re-rate on endpoint IC revenue acceleration.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on close below $175 (pre-earnings support), or if Q1 guidance disappoints on retail RFID deployment delays at next print.

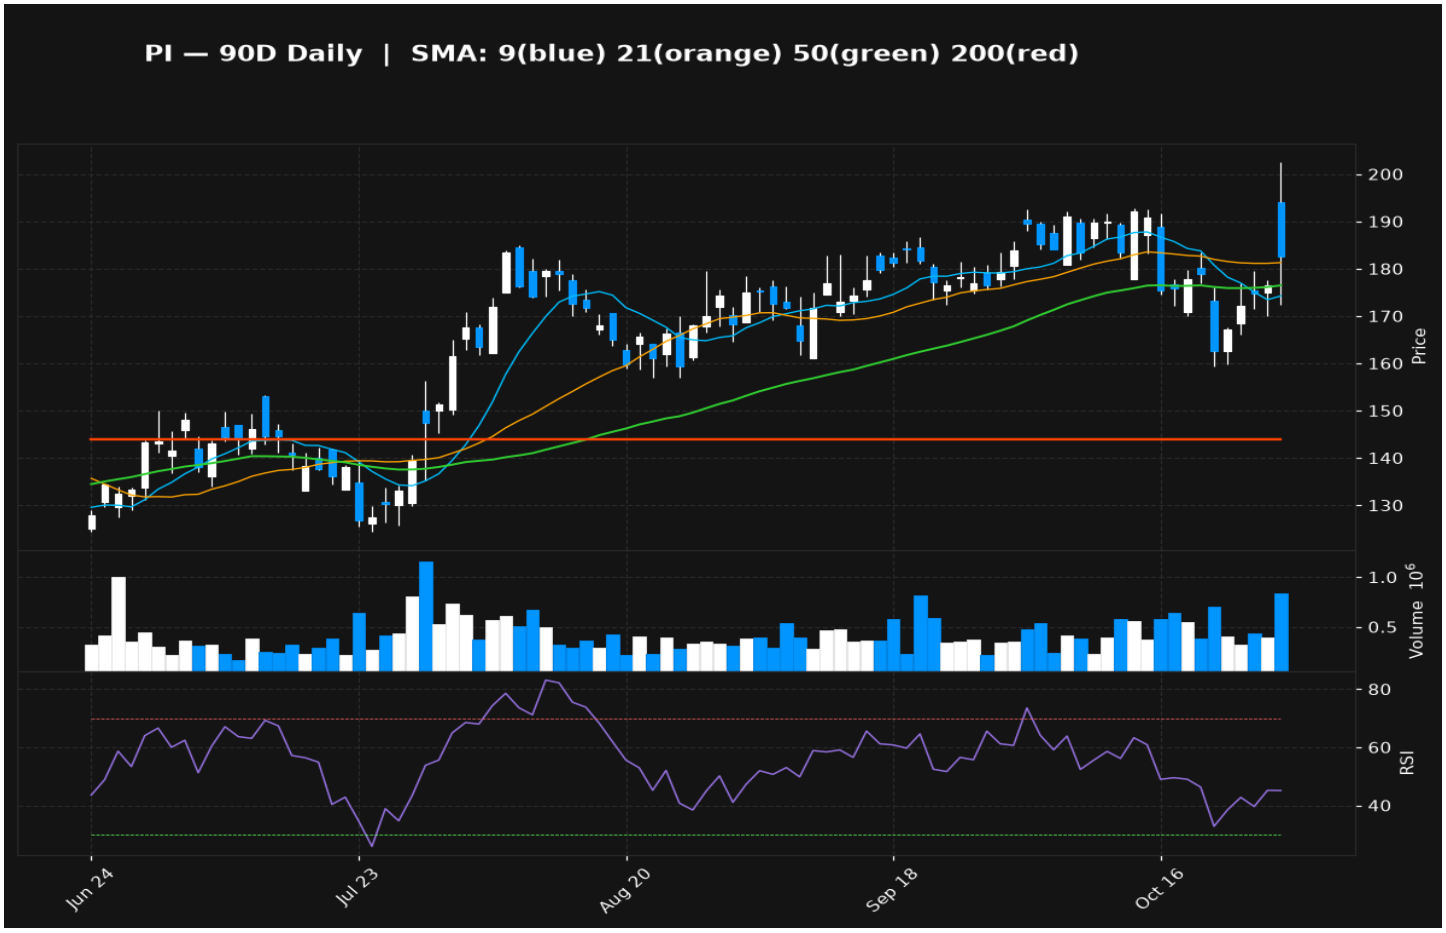

ANALYSIS

Strong RS (+11.3), textbook base_tight at exactly 2.0, and 82% of 52W high with post-earnings validation. However, RS line not at new high (critical Qullamaggie signal absent) and prox_52w at 81.8 is below the 85+ breakout zone threshold. Solid B-grade with follow-through potential but lacks the five-factor convergence for A. Strongest disconfirming evidence: mixed macro regime reduces conviction in all breakouts. Conviction: Medium.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Post-earnings move yesterday (Oct 28); 2.2x volume and proximity to 52W high suggest solid results. Forward catalyst: U.S. rig count trajectory and international wellhead equipment orders into Q4; next earnings late January (~90d) will reflect holiday-quarter upstream capex spending and 2027 guidance.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Cactus manufactures wellhead equipment and pressure control technology for onshore oil and gas drilling. The company has market-leading share in U.S. unconventional plays and is expanding internationally (Middle East, Latin America).

FACTOR & THEME

Energy sector leadership (+9.4% this week) and sustained oil prices >$70 support upstream equipment demand. International diversification (Saudi, UAE contracts) adds growth vector. Theme momentum stable; not declining but not accelerating either.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $65.50 on vol >2.22x of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume 2.22x with 88.4% of 52W high indicates institutional validation post-earnings. RS barely positive (+1.0 vs SPY) suggests it's keeping pace but not leading. No insider buying in last 90 days. Float 59.2M is moderate. Ownership data unavailable.

EARNINGS

REPORTED

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Reported Oct 28; move suggests in-line or slight beat. Next print late January 2027. Key metrics: North America wellhead shipments and international order backlog.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on close below $62.50 (breakdown of post-earnings support), or if U.S. rig count deteriorates >5% into year-end indicating capex cuts.

ANALYSIS

Prox_52w 88.4, vol 2.22x, base_tight 2.28 (acceptable), and energy sector tailwind earn B-grade despite RS barely positive. RS line not at new high and marginal relative strength prevent A. Energy sector bonus (+0.5) considered but RS weakness offsets. Strongest disconfirming evidence: RS +1.0 is too weak for a true breakout leader. Conviction: Medium.
