Analysis
Catalyst / Today's Driver No positive catalyst today - NVDA is down 4.38% on above-average selling pressure, likely a combination of profit-taking near the 52-week high at $236.54, macro mixed-regime caution, and possible sector rotation out of high-multiple tech. The move is reactive/distributive, not a breakout.
Business & Position NVIDIA is the dominant designer of GPUs and AI accelerator chips, holding an estimated 70-90% share of the data center AI training and inference market through its H100/H200/Blackwell architecture stack and the CUDA software ecosystem moat. Revenue grew 73.2% year-over-year, driven almost entirely by hyperscaler and sovereign AI infrastructure buildout - a demand cycle with multi-year visibility as model training costs compound.
Factor & Theme NVDA is the single highest-purity expression of the AI infrastructure secular theme - every major cloud provider (AWS, Azure, GCP), frontier AI lab (OpenAI, Anthropic, xAI), and sovereign AI program is a customer or prospect. Secondary tailwinds include autonomous vehicles (DRIVE platform) and industrial digitization (Omniverse), but AI data center is the dominant earnings driver and the theme is in full acceleration, not deceleration.
Breakout Signal No actionable breakout signal today. Stock is below its $236.54 pivot/52W high and trading on sub-average volume while down 4.38%. Actionable re-entry signal would be: Close above $236.54 on volume >1.5x 20-day average (i.e., >255.7M shares) with RS line confirming new 52-week high.
Institutional Institutional ownership stands at 70.3% across 7,450 institutional holders - one of the broadest ownership bases of any public company, reflecting near-universal inclusion in large-cap tech and AI-themed mandates. Volume today is only 0.95x average, meaning no institutional accumulation signal is present - this is a quiet down day, not a conviction sell-off. Critically, insider activity is a significant caution flag: zero open-market buys in the last 90 days and zero in the trailing 12 months, while insiders have sold $981.2M across 322 transactions in the last 12 months. This is a sustained, high-velocity insider distribution pattern. While NVDA insiders selling is partly a structural wealth-management reality at these price levels, the complete absence of any open-market buy - at any price, from any insider, over 12 months - removes the insider conviction signal entirely. No A/D rating grade or silent-build data provided in this feed.
Earnings Context No earnings date is available from the live calendar feed for this scan (earnings_date: null). Per Wharton guardrail: do not invent a date from training data. Investors should verify the next report date directly via NASDAQ IR or yfinance. NVDA has been a serial consensus beater - consensus estimates have been raised materially after each of the last four quarters, and the stock has historically re-rated higher on beats driven by data center revenue upside. Forward P/E of 19.8x on 73% revenue growth implies a PEG well below 1.0 on a growth-adjusted basis, which is the primary institutional valuation anchor. PS ratio of 25.3x reflects the market pricing in sustained margin and revenue expansion.
Key Risk The primary bear case is a deceleration in hyperscaler AI capex - if Microsoft, Google, or Amazon signals a pause or digestion phase in GPU orders, consensus estimates for FY2026/27 would face significant downward revision; at 25x sales, even a 10% revenue miss would trigger a violent multiple compression. Secondary risks include export control escalation (China revenue haircut already baked in but could worsen), AMD/Intel competitive catch-up on price-performance, and the sheer weight of $981M in insider sales signaling insiders view current prices as full.
Analysis NVDA is NOT a breakout candidate today - it is down 4.38% on near-average volume, below its $236.54 pivot, with no positive catalyst, no RS line at a new high, a loose base (base_tight 5.63, far above the <2.0 VCP threshold), and zero insider buying over the full trailing 12 months against $981M in sales. The stock is technically extended from a proper base and is currently in a pullback/consolidation phase. The 13.3% 12-week outperformance vs. SPY and 70.3% institutional ownership confirm long-term leadership quality, and NVDA belongs on every institutional watchlist - but the Qullamaggie methodology demands you wait for a proper base to form and a high-volume breakout above $236.54 with RS line confirmation before treating this as an actionable momentum entry. In a Mixed/Transitional macro regime with IWM significantly lagging SPY, chasing a down day in a mega-cap at 25x sales with no insider conviction is a low-probability setup.

Recent 13D / 13G Filings (last 12 months)

13D = activist stake, board pressure, takeover | 13G = passive 5%+ holder, lower-conviction

No 13D or 13G filings against this company in the last 12 months.

Ownership Interpretation

Smart Money:	Top holders skew 6 passive / 4 active. No high-conviction smart-money names identified.
Concentration:	Top 10 hold 33% - moderate concentration, normal for SMID.
13D/13G:	No 5%+ stake filings in last 12 months. Either nobody's gone over the threshold or the company is too large for 5% to be common (>$10B caps rarely see 13D/G activity).
Insider Tape:	322 insider sales in 12 months, no open-market purchases - neutral to bearish (but typical for unprofitable growth companies).

Volume / Tape Synthesis

- A/D Verdict:

B-rated tape (Accumulation). Volume action favors buyers - institutions are net accumulating over the last 13 weeks.
- Trajectory:

Recent month is accumulation - building on prior momentum. Trend is on your side.
