Business model and competitive position

“Robinhood Markets, Inc.” (Capital Markets; 2,900 employees) Revenue was $1.07B in the most recent reported quarter, +15.1% against the same quarter a year earlier. No segment revenue mix, market-share estimate or installed-base figure is ingested here, so none is claimed.

The market debate

No admitted consensus to lean on, so the variant is ours to carry: the business shows negative free cash flow while the tape is weak. The report weights the filed cash economics over the momentum, and says so. [\[DER\]](#)

Peer multiples

Peer multiples: unavailable — no admitted peer set

Not valued here

Historical multiple band: unavailable — a point-in-time historical EPS series is not available on this tier, so a real historical multiple band cannot be built; the 52-week PRICE range divided by current EPS would be circular
Forward / bull-base-bear scenarios: unavailable — no admitted forward guidance or consensus estimates on this tier; bull/base/bear prices are withheld until the issuer release is ingested rather than derived from the price range

Catalysts, variant view and what to monitor

Catalysts

Last confirmed: company earnings release (8-K item 2.02) — the earliest verified public disclosure of these results, found by scanning 2 filings; the later periodic filing is not the catalyst (2026-04-28 16:05 ET). regulator-confirmed (EDGAR acceptance timestamp) [OBS]

No verified company-specific driver. No issuer disclosure inside the last 21 days explains the current tape; press coverage is listed below but is not evidence of cause. [OBS]

Next: next earnings (data-vendor estimate, not company-confirmed) on 2026-07-29 (vendor-estimated (data provider, not confirmed by the issuer)) [OBS]

Ranked risks

- Price is below its 200-day average (100.92), a structural downtrend until reclaimed. [DER]
- 80 open-market insider sale(s) filed in the window; discretionary intent is not disclosed. [OBS]
- The call has concluded, but its transcript is not yet verified; any guidance nuance beyond the filed release is unconfirmed. [OBS]

Variant perception

No admitted consensus to lean on, so the variant is ours to carry: the business shows negative free cash flow while the tape is weak. The report weights the filed cash economics over the momentum, and says so. [DER]

What would change our mind

Confirms on: reclaim of the 200-day at $100.92 on above-average volume [DER]

Breaks on: loss of the 60-session closing low at $71.20 [DER]
