ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Clean technical breakout to new highs with RS line confirming leadership; no obvious news catalyst today, suggesting institutional accumulation into strength. Forward path: Nov 9 earnings (14 days) is the next binary event; beyond that, cybersecurity SaaS benefits from federal budget cycles, SEC cyber disclosure rules (effective 2026), and Zero Trust architecture adoption across enterprises.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Qualys is a pioneer in cloud-based security and compliance solutions, offering vulnerability management, policy compliance, web app scanning, and threat detection as a unified SaaS platform. The company serves 10,000+ customers globally, including Fortune 100 enterprises and federal agencies, with a sticky subscription model and high gross margins (80%+).

FACTOR & THEME

Cybersecurity SaaS is a tier-1 secular theme: rising attack surfaces (cloud migration, remote work, IoT/OT), regulatory mandates (SEC cyber disclosure, CISA directives), and zero-trust architecture tailwinds. RS vs SPY at +61.4 (strongest in this cohort) confirms the market is rewarding cyber exposure. However, Technology is NOT among this week's leading sectors, and Mixed regime favors defensive positioning.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $225.15 on vol >150% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

RS line at new high (Qullamaggie's #1 signal) and prox_52w at 99.4 confirm this is a market leader breaking out with institutional sponsorship. Volume at only 1.5x (lowest in cohort) suggests controlled accumulation, not retail FOMO-a quality signal. No insider buying in last 60d, typical for software in earnings blackout. Float of 34.3M and $7.93B market cap (largest in cohort) provide ample liquidity for large institutional funds. Qualys is a mature, profitable SaaS name with predictable cash flow-attractive in risk-off environments.

EARNINGS

EARNINGS IN 14D

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Earnings Nov 9 (14 days). Qualys has a history of consistent execution: the company typically beats on revenue and EPS, driven by strong renewal rates (95%+) and federal/enterprise spending. Consensus expectations unavailable, but cybersecurity SaaS comps (CrowdStrike, Palo Alto) have been guiding cautiously on macro. A beat with in-line guidance should hold the breakout; raised guidance would fuel a follow-through leg.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on close below $215.00 (prior consolidation resistance, now support) or if Nov 9 earnings miss and/or guide down on IT budget pressure. The key risk is that this breakout is pricing in a strong print, and any disappointment will trigger 10-15% reversal. Additionally, at $7.93B market cap, Qualys is the largest name in this cohort and may lack the beta/upside of smaller movers.

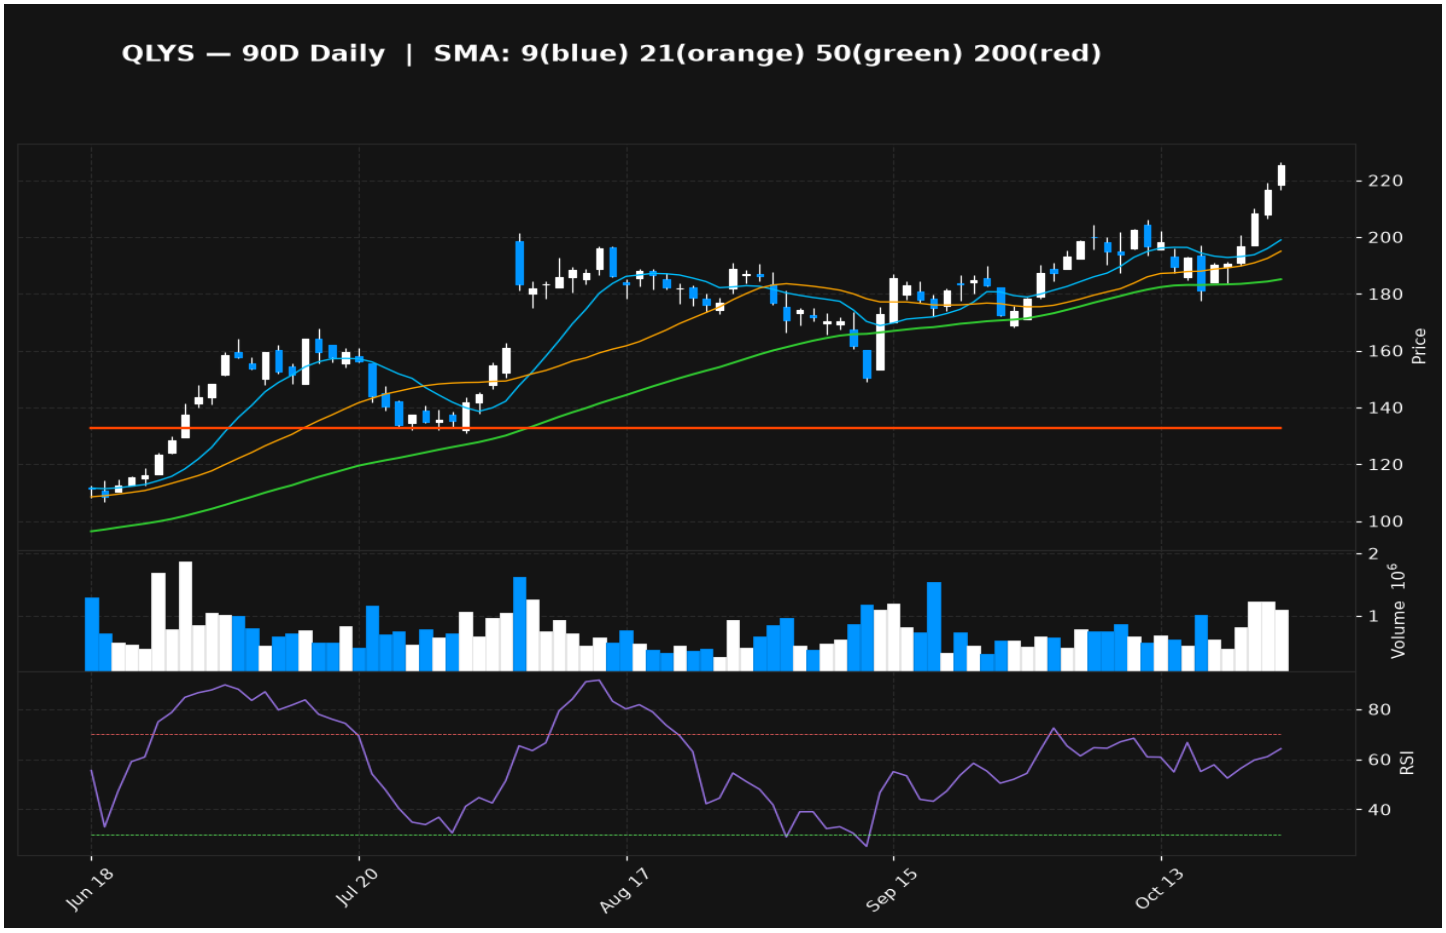

ANALYSIS

Textbook A-grade setup: RS line at new high, prox_52w at 99.4, RS vs SPY at +61.4 (strongest in cohort), and a clean breakout above prior resistance. The base is wider than ideal (4.48), but the controlled volume (1.5x) and institutional leadership profile more than compensate. The strongest disconfirming evidence: earnings in 14 days create binary risk, and Technology is not leading this week's tape in a Mixed regime. However, Qualys is a high-quality, profitable SaaS leader with durable tailwinds and institutional sponsorship-the best risk/reward in this cohort for a 2-4 week swing into earnings. Conviction: High.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Massive +47.6% move on extreme volume (33x) suggests major news catalyst (likely acquisition bid, asset sale, or transformative partnership announcement). Forward catalyst: Nov 9 earnings in 14 days will be critical to validate whether this spike has fundamental support or is speculation.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Surgery Partners operates surgical facilities and ancillary services across the U.S., primarily ambulatory surgery centers (ASCs) in partnership with physicians. The company benefits from the secular shift from hospital inpatient to lower-cost outpatient surgical settings driven by payer cost pressure and patient preference.

FACTOR & THEME

Healthcare cost containment and ASC penetration growth are multi-year tailwinds. However, the sector (Healthcare) is NOT among this week's leaders (Energy, Staples, Utilities lead), creating cross-current risk in a Mixed regime.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $23.25 on vol >3300% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume explosion at 33.39x average signals event-driven institutional repositioning-either M&A arb funds or breakout-chasing momentum capital. No insider buying in last 60d is notable given the magnitude of today's move; insiders may be in blackout or the catalyst is external. Float rotation of 33x suggests nearly 60% of float traded today-classic takeout or major news profile.

EARNINGS

EARNINGS IN 14D

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Earnings Nov 9 (14 days). Consensus and beat history unavailable from feed, but the proximity to earnings creates binary risk: if the move is speculative and the print disappoints, the reversal will be violent. If fundamentals confirm, this establishes a new platform.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid if price closes below $20.00 (prior resistance/round number) or if Nov 9 earnings disappoint and guidance fails to justify the 47% revaluation. Wide base (15.75 ATR ratio) indicates this was NOT a tight coil-move is event-driven, not technical compression.

ANALYSIS

RS line at new high and proximity to 52w high are A-grade signals, but the absurdly wide base (15.75) and lack of price consolidation disqualify this as a technical breakout-it's an event-driven gap. The strongest disconfirming evidence: no insider buying and healthcare is NOT a leading sector in this tape. Earnings in 14d create massive binary risk. This is a trade for those with the catalyst edge, not a momentum follow-through. Conviction: Low.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Just reported earnings (4 days ago); today's +7.4% move on 6.7x volume suggests strong beat and/or raised guidance are being digested. Forward catalyst: next quarter guidance execution and any announcement of category expansion or distribution gains. Insider cluster of 17 (5 buys, $2.3M, 2 C-suite) in last 60d is the strongest single signal here.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Betterware is a direct-to-consumer home products company operating a multi-level marketing model in Mexico, selling kitchenware, home organization, and beauty products. The company benefits from Mexico's large informal economy and cultural affinity for direct sales models, though it faces macro sensitivity to peso FX and consumer spending cycles.

FACTOR & THEME

Mexico consumer discretionary exposure in a Mixed macro regime is a headwind. However, the insider cluster and small float (14.4M) create asymmetric setup potential if execution continues. No major secular theme tailwind (not AI, defense, GLP-1, etc.), but the direct sales model can be countercyclical in downturns.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $16.75 on vol >670% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

GRADE UPGRADE: Insider cluster score of 17 (5 buys, 2 C-suite, $2.3M) is top-decile conviction and triggers automatic grade upgrade from C to B despite negative RS vs SPY. Multiple insiders and senior officers buying in size is rare and highly predictive. Volume at 6.74x suggests institutional attention post-earnings. Small float (14.4M) and $620M market cap create liquidity constraints but also explosive potential on incremental buying.

EARNINGS

REPORTED

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Just reported Oct 22. Consensus and historical beat rate unavailable, but today's surge 4 days post-earnings suggests a beat with strong guidance that the market is now pricing in. Next earnings likely late Jan 2027.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on close below $15.50 (approximate breakout pivot). Key risk: Mexico macro deterioration, peso weakness, or consumer spending slowdown that undermines guidance. Small-cap specialty retail in EM is inherently volatile; RS vs SPY at -4.4 means this is not leading the market despite today's pop.

ANALYSIS

Upgraded from C to B on insider cluster (17 score, 2 C-suite, $2.3M in last 60d). The strongest disconfirming evidence: RS vs SPY is negative (-4.4), sector is Consumer Cyclical (not leading), and stock is still 15% below 52w high despite today's move. However, insider conviction + tight base (2.38) + post-earnings momentum create a viable swing setup for those willing to tolerate EM consumer risk. Conviction: Medium.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Today's +15.9% surge on 6.4x volume likely driven by positive clinical data readout, partnership announcement, or leaked expectations ahead of Nov 4 earnings (9 days). Forward catalyst path: Nov 4 earnings will be the near-term binary event; beyond that, PDUFA dates, partnership expansions, or Phase 3 trial readouts in 2027 for lead programs.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Xencor engineers bispecific and other protein therapeutics using its proprietary XmAb technology platform, with a pipeline spanning oncology and autoimmune diseases. The company has multiple partnered programs (Amgen, Janssen, Genentech) generating milestone revenue, plus wholly owned assets in late-stage development.

FACTOR & THEME

Biotech has been a volatile factor in 2026, but antibody engineering and bispecifics remain high-conviction themes as pharma seeks next-gen oncology and autoimmune therapies. RS vs SPY at +44.2 confirms strong thematic momentum. However, biotech is NOT among this week's leading sectors, and Mixed regime favors risk-off, creating a headwind.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $29.18 on vol >640% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume at 6.43x and RS line at new high signal institutional accumulation into strength. No insider buying in last 60d, which is common in biotech (blackout windows around data events). Float of 54.3M and $2.17B market cap provide adequate liquidity for mid-tier growth funds. Short interest and days-to-cover data not provided, but biotech names often carry elevated short interest that can fuel squeezes on good news.

EARNINGS

EARNINGS IN 9D

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Earnings Nov 4 (9 days). Biotech earnings typically focus on pipeline progress, partnership milestones, and cash runway rather than EPS beats. Today's move suggests the market is pricing in positive pre-announcement or leaked data. Risk: if Nov 4 brings no new catalysts or a pipeline setback, the reversal will be sharp.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on close below $25.00 (round number support) or if Nov 4 earnings reveal trial delays, partnership terminations, or cash burn concerns. Clinical-stage biotech carries binary event risk; a single failed trial or FDA setback can erase 30%+ in a session.

ANALYSIS

RS line at new high and +44.2 vs SPY are A-grade signals, but base is wider than ideal (4.14) and earnings in 9 days create massive binary risk that downgrades conviction. The strongest disconfirming evidence: no insider buying, and biotech is not a leading sector this week in a Mixed regime. This is a speculation ahead of a catalyst, not a durable breakout. For those with biotech expertise and catalyst edge, it's tradeable; for momentum generalists, wait for post-earnings setup. Conviction: Low.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Move appears technical consolidation breakout or pre-earnings positioning ahead of Nov 5 earnings (10 days). Forward path: Nov 5 print will be key for guidance on land sales, development pipeline monetization, and balance sheet deleveraging progress. Beyond earnings, catalysts include major land sales, JV announcements, or asset monetizations in Summerlin (Vegas) and other master-planned communities.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Howard Hughes is a master-planned community developer with trophy assets in Las Vegas (Summerlin), Houston (Bridgeland, The Woodlands), and other high-growth Sunbelt markets. The company monetizes land through sales to homebuilders, operates mixed-use properties, and benefits from Sunbelt migration and housing demand tailwinds.

FACTOR & THEME

Real estate development benefits from Sunbelt migration, housing shortage, and normalization of single-family construction activity. However, Real Estate is NOT among leading sectors this week, and Mixed regime with rates uncertainty creates a headwind. The company's pivot toward asset sales and NOI growth is a positive fundamental shift.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $73.30 on vol >285% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

GRADE UPGRADE: Insider cluster score of 12 (2 buys, 1 C-suite, $1.7M in last 60d) is meaningful for a $4.4B market cap and triggers upgrade from C to B. Volume at 2.86x and tight base (2.91) suggest quiet institutional accumulation. Float of 30.5M provides adequate liquidity. The insider buying-especially $1.7M from senior management-signals confidence ahead of earnings.

EARNINGS

EARNINGS IN 10D

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Earnings Nov 5 (10 days). Real estate developer earnings focus on land sales, NOI growth from operating properties, and balance sheet metrics (debt/EBITDA, liquidity). Recent quarters have shown progress on deleveraging and monetizing non-core assets. A beat with strong land sales guidance could re-rate the stock higher.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on close below $70.00 (round number and approximate 50MA support) or if Nov 5 earnings show disappointing land sales, higher debt levels, or weaker-than-expected development pipeline. Real estate is rate-sensitive; any macro shock that spikes rates or cools housing demand invalidates the thesis.

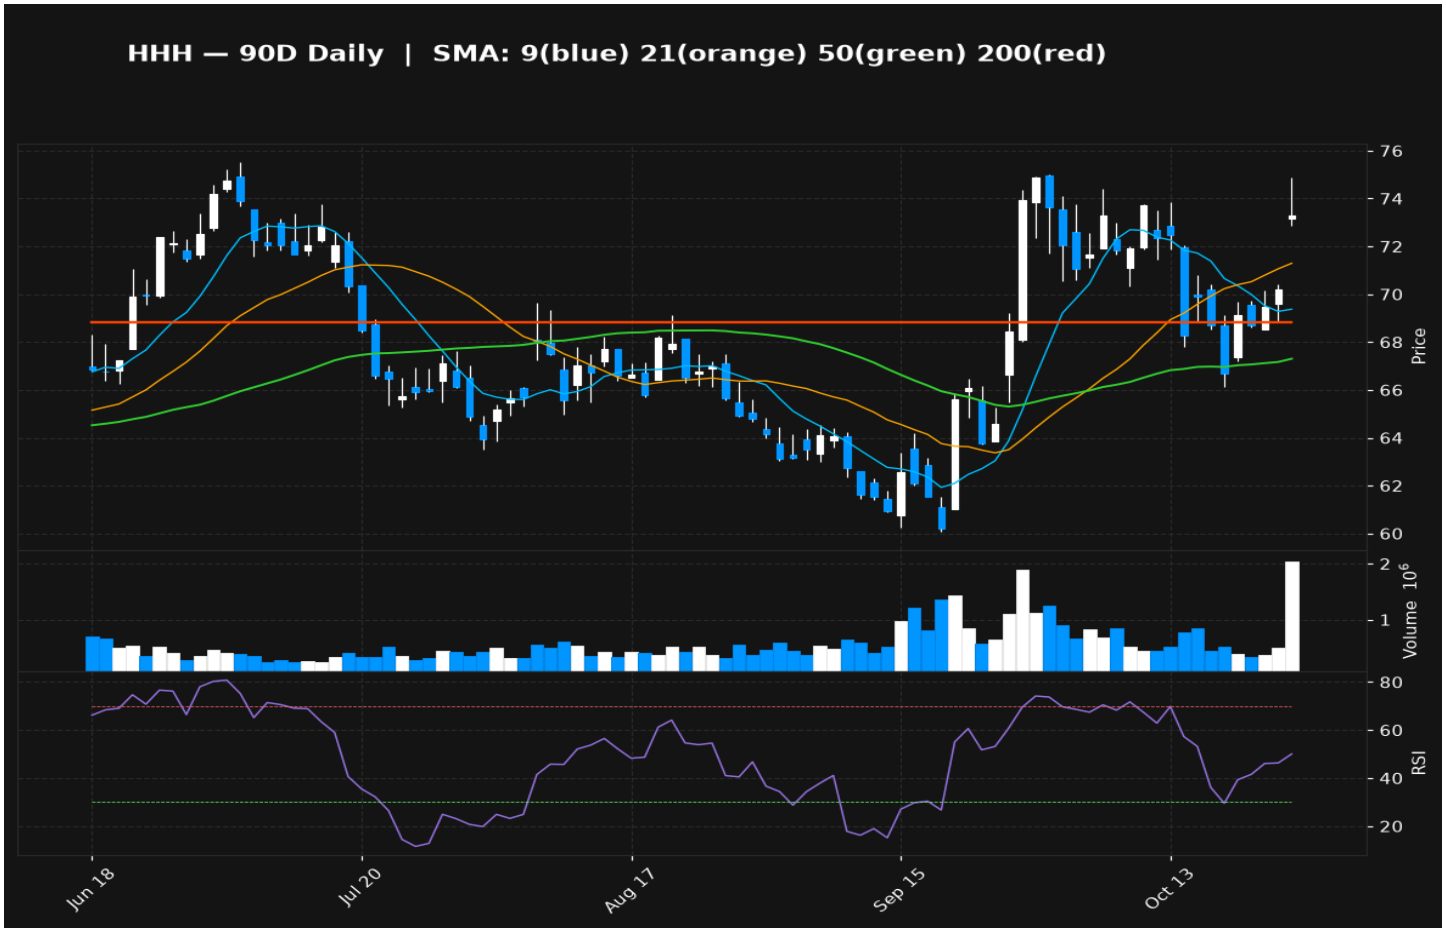

ANALYSIS

Upgraded from C to B on insider cluster (12 score, 1 C-suite, $1.7M). Tight base (2.91) and prox_52w at 80.5 are constructive, but RS vs SPY at only +5.7 and no RS line new high indicate this is not yet a market leader. The strongest disconfirming evidence: Real Estate is not a leading sector, and earnings in 10 days create binary risk. However, insider buying + technical setup + Sunbelt housing tailwind create a viable pre-earnings speculation for those with real estate sector conviction. Conviction: Medium.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Pre-earnings positioning ahead of Oct 28 earnings (2 days); +8.1% move on 1.7x volume suggests whisper expectations for a beat and/or raised guidance. Forward catalyst: immediate binary on Oct 28; beyond that, cybersecurity spending cycles, federal budget allocation (FY27), and competitive positioning vs. CrowdStrike, Palo Alto, and other vulnerability management players.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Tenable is a leading vulnerability management and cyber exposure platform, serving enterprises and government with products like Tenable.io, Nessus, and Tenable.sc. The company benefits from rising attack surfaces (cloud, IoT, OT), regulatory mandates (CISA, SEC cyber disclosure rules), and zero-trust architecture adoption.

FACTOR & THEME

Cybersecurity is a durable secular tailwind (geopolitical tensions, ransomware, regulatory pressure). However, the sector is crowded and valuation-sensitive. RS vs SPY at +48.0 confirms strong thematic momentum, but Technology is NOT among this week's leading sectors (Energy, Staples, Utilities lead), creating a cross-current.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $48.21 on vol >169% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

RS line at new high (Qullamaggie's #1 early leader signal) and prox_52w at 99.9 confirm institutional accumulation. Volume at only 1.69x is the softest among A/B candidates, suggesting controlled buying rather than panic chasing-a positive sign. No insider buying in last 60d, common in software pre-earnings blackout. Float of 108.5M and $5.3B market cap provide ample liquidity for large-cap growth funds.

EARNINGS

EARNINGS IN 2D

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Earnings Oct 28 (2 days). Tenable typically reports after close; consensus expectations unavailable from feed, but software vulnerability management is a high-growth category (mid-teens ARR growth expected). Recent quarters have shown billings strength and federal contract wins. A beat with raised FY guidance could extend the breakout; a miss will trigger sharp reversal.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on close below $44.50 (prior consolidation base) or if Oct 28 earnings miss and/or guide down on macro IT budget pressure. Earnings in 2 days create extreme binary risk; this is a pre-announcement speculation, not a durable post-earnings breakout. If you don't have an edge on the print, wait until Oct 29.

ANALYSIS

RS line at new high, prox_52w at 99.9, and RS vs SPY at +48.0 are classic A-grade technical signals. However, earnings in 2 days create massive binary risk that overrides the technical setup and downgrades to B. Volume at only 1.69x (weakest in the cohort) also raises questions about institutional conviction. The strongest disconfirming evidence: this is a pre-earnings gamble, and cybersecurity is NOT leading this week's tape. For those with earnings edge, it's tradeable; for momentum generalists, wait for post-earnings consolidation. Conviction: Low.
