ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Earnings reported Nov 4 drove the breakout - likely a substantial beat given the surge and RS line at new high. Forward catalyst: Healthcare sector rotation is accelerating (sector +13.1% vs SPY this week), positioning ARDT for sustained institutional inflows as the leading Healthcare theme extends. Next earnings late January 2027 will be the next re-rating event.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Ardent Health operates 30 hospitals and 200+ care sites across six states, competing as a mid-tier regional hospital operator. The company benefits from tight regional density and scale in high-growth Sun Belt markets (Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, New Mexico).

FACTOR & THEME

Healthcare sector leadership (top sector this week +13.1% vs SPY) combined with consumer-health recovery theme. Ardent captures defensive healthcare spending plus elective procedure rebound. Sector momentum is accelerating in this Risk-Off regime, providing unusual tailwind.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $17.24 on vol >530% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume 5.3x on earnings confirms institutional accumulation on the print. RS line at 52-week high is Qullamaggie's #1 signal that smart money is making new commitments. Low float (21.7M) with high sector beta creates squeeze dynamics as Healthcare becomes the macro refuge trade.

EARNINGS

REPORTED

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Just reported Nov 4. Earnings beat history and guidance will determine durability - a beat with raised guidance would be the ideal setup for follow-through into year-end. Hospital operators have shown pricing power and volume recovery in 2026.

KEY RISK

Setup invalidates on a close back below $15.80 (approximate 20-day MA), or if guidance at the next print (late January 2027) disappoints and reverses the sector bid.

ANALYSIS

RS line at new high with 5.3x volume and Healthcare sector leadership (+13.1% this week) makes this an institutional-grade breakout despite the wide base (8.72). Strongest disconfirming evidence: base_tight well above the 2.0 VCP ideal suggests this is an early-stage move, not a coiled spring - risk of pullback to tighten the pattern before sustained breakout. However, sector leadership in Risk-Off regime and RS new high override the wide base. Conviction: Medium - sector tailwind is strong, but Risk-Off macro and wide base cap conviction at Medium rather than High.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Earnings reported Nov 5 triggered a breakout to within 0.2% of 52-week high, with RS line at new high confirming leadership. Forward catalyst: Consumer Staples sector is second-leading this week (+12.2% vs SPY), signaling rotation into consumer-facing names. Next earnings late Feb 2027 and any holiday sales guidance or comp-store data will drive follow-through.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Arhaus is a premium home furnishings retailer competing in the high-end furniture market. The company differentiates through vertically integrated design and manufacturing, capturing margin from direct-to-consumer sales and showroom experiences.

FACTOR & THEME

Consumer recovery and housing-related spending. Arhaus benefits from housing turnover, home equity wealth effects, and a shift to quality/premium discretionary spend. Not directly in Consumer Staples but adjacent to the consumer leadership rotation this week.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $14.24 on vol >231% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume 2.31x on earnings with RS line at new high signals institutional re-rating. Prox_52w at 99.8 means the stock is at all-time leadership, and the RS new high confirms institutions are establishing new positions at the high - classic Qullamaggie setup. Low float (52.2M) amplifies moves.

EARNINGS

REPORTED

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Just reported Nov 5. The breakout to 52-week high proximity implies a strong beat and/or raised guidance. Furniture retailers have faced tough comps in 2026; an Arhaus beat suggests market-share gains or pricing power. Next print late Feb 2027.

KEY RISK

Setup invalidates on a close back below $13.50 (approximate breakout pivot), or if holiday sales disappoint and next earnings guidance is cut. Consumer discretionary is vulnerable in Risk-Off regimes despite the current sector strength.

ANALYSIS

RS line at new high + prox_52w 99.8 + RS vs SPY +49.0 is textbook institutional leadership. Strongest disconfirming evidence: base_tight 4.38 is wider than the VCP ideal (<2.0), and Consumer Cyclical (not Staples) is not in the top-3 leading sectors this week, introducing some sector mismatch risk. However, the RS new high at the 52-week high is a rare and powerful signal that overrides the base width. Risk-Off macro is a headwind, but consumer sector rotation provides a tailwind. Conviction: Medium-High - technical setup is elite, but Risk-Off regime and sector classification cap conviction just below High.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Earnings reported Nov 5 drove a 40% spike - likely a major beat or guidance raise. Forward catalyst: Insider cluster (3 distinct insiders, $1.0M in open-market buys last 60 days) signals management conviction in the trajectory. Next earnings Feb 2027 and any defense contract announcements or government budget allocations will drive follow-through.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Karman Holdings is an aerospace & defense contractor serving government and commercial markets. The company likely benefits from defense budget growth and space-related government contracts, positioning it in the secular defense spending and space economy themes.

FACTOR & THEME

Defense spending tailwind and space economy exposure. Defense remains bipartisan priority with multi-year budget visibility. Space launch and satellite infrastructure are accelerating themes. However, Aerospace is not in the top-3 leading sectors this week.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $45.02 on vol >271% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Insider cluster score of 11 (3 distinct insiders, $1.0M total) is a top-tier conviction signal - management is buying aggressively in the open market. Volume 2.71x on earnings suggests block buying. Low float (102.6M for a $6B company is relatively tight) supports squeeze potential. UPGRADE TRIGGER: insider_cluster >= 5 in risk-on would warrant a grade bump, but current Risk-Off regime with VIX 24.8 keeps this at B.

EARNINGS

REPORTED

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Just reported Nov 5. The 40% surge implies a significant beat or transformational guidance. History of beats and forward guidance will determine if this is a re-rating or a one-day event. Defense contractors often provide multi-quarter visibility.

KEY RISK

Setup invalidates below $38.50 (approximate breakout pivot), or if next earnings (Feb 2027) disappoints and reverses the trajectory. RS vs SPY is deeply negative at -23.0, meaning this is a recovery trade, not a leadership trade - heightened risk if macro weakens further.

ANALYSIS

Explosive 40% earnings move with $1.0M insider buying cluster (3 distinct insiders) is a rare combination that demands attention. Strongest disconfirming evidence: RS vs SPY is -23.0, placing this well below market leadership - it's a recovery/bounce, not a true leader, and prox_52w at 38.0 means it's 62% below the high. Risk-Off regime (VIX 24.8) compounds the risk that this is a one-day squeeze rather than sustained breakout. Insider buying provides the conviction to keep this at B rather than C, but the negative RS and macro headwind prevent an A. Conviction: Medium - insiders are strong, but RS and macro are weak.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Earnings reported Nov 5 drove a 28% surge - likely a beat or guidance raise on organ transplant system adoption. Forward catalyst: Healthcare sector leadership (+13.1% vs SPY this week) and insider buying ($109K, 1 buy last 60d) signal conviction. Next earnings late Feb 2027 and any FDA expansions or hospital adoption data will extend the move.

BUSINESS & POSITION

TransMedics commercializes the Organ Care System (OCS), a portable organ perfusion platform that extends viable transplant time for hearts, lungs, and livers. The company is a category leader in ex-vivo organ preservation, competing in a niche with high barriers to entry (regulatory, clinical evidence, hospital relationships).

FACTOR & THEME

Healthcare innovation and medical device adoption. TransMedics taps the secular theme of transplant medicine advancement and hospital capital equipment spending. Healthcare sector is the top-performing sector this week, providing strong tailwind.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $88.29 on vol >273% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume 2.73x on earnings with insider buying ($109K, 1 buy last 60d) confirms management conviction post-earnings. Low float (33.6M) for a $3B market cap creates squeeze potential. Healthcare sector leadership provides institutional bid. Insider cluster score of 2 is modest but present - any buying is notable.

EARNINGS

REPORTED

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Just reported Nov 5. Medical device companies with adoption-driven revenue models often beat on utilization surprises. The 28% surge implies strong beat or guidance raise. Next print late Feb 2027 will test durability.

KEY RISK

Setup invalidates below $75.00 (approximate breakout base), or if next earnings (late Feb 2027) disappoints or shows adoption slowdown. RS vs SPY at only +3.1 is weak relative leadership - this is not a true market leader despite the Healthcare sector strength.

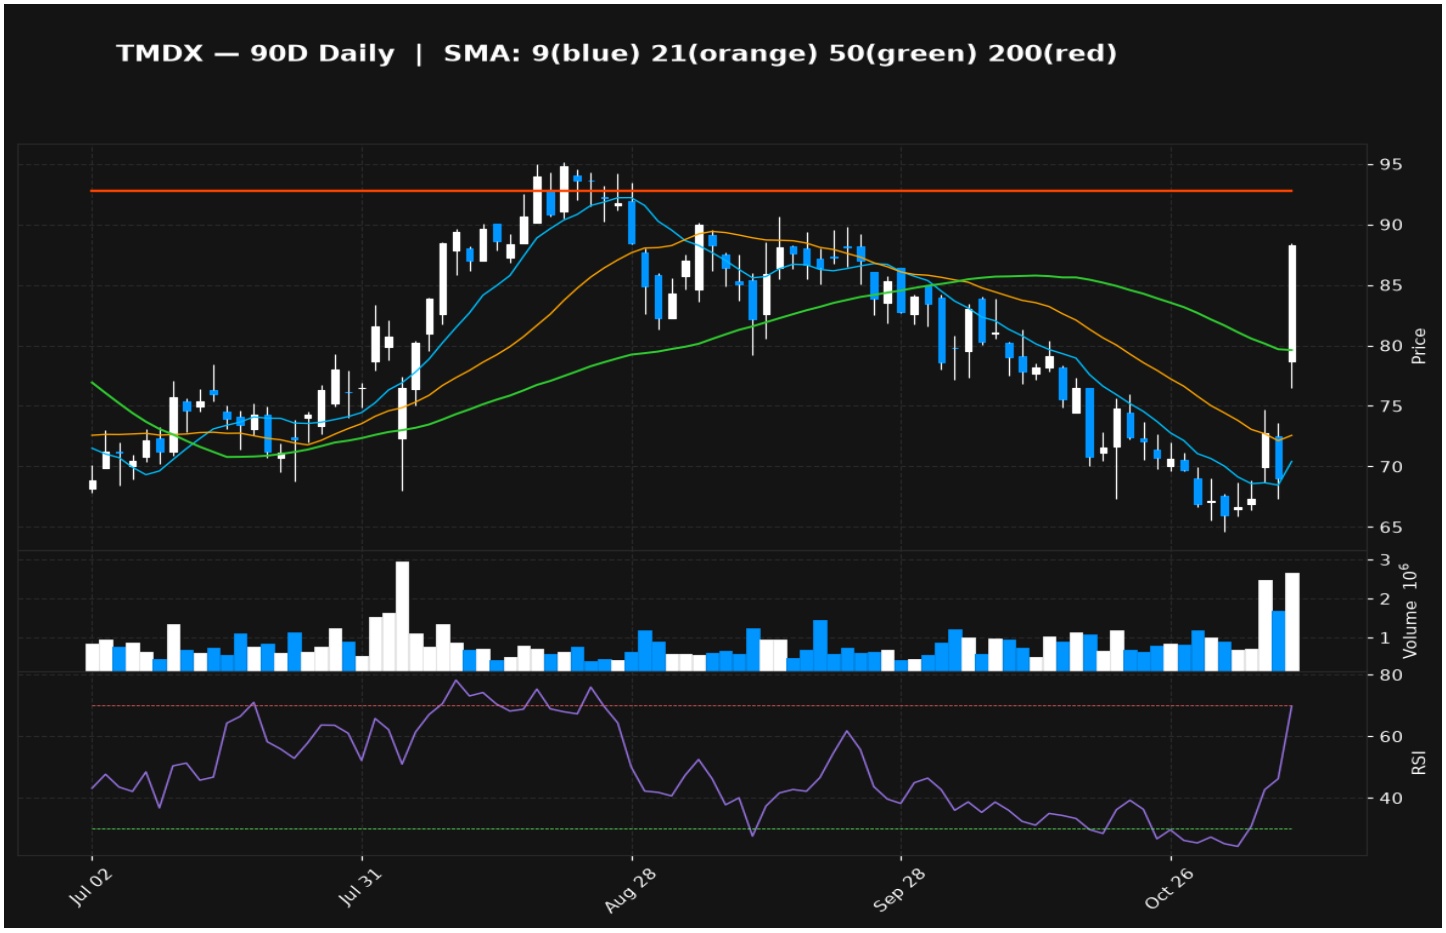

ANALYSIS

28% earnings pop with insider buying ($109K) and Healthcare sector leadership (+13.1% this week) makes this a strong setup. Strongest disconfirming evidence: RS vs SPY at +3.1 is barely positive, prox_52w at 56.6 means the stock is still 43% below its high, and base_tight at 5.53 is wide - this is an early recovery move, not a breakout from a tight coil. Risk-Off macro and weak RS prevent an A grade despite sector strength. Insider buying and Healthcare leadership keep it at B. Conviction: Medium - sector and insiders support, but RS and technical quality are subpar.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Earnings reported Nov 4 drove a 16% move - likely pipeline update or clinical trial data. Forward catalyst: Biotech often re-rates on binary FDA events or data readouts. Next catalyst is likely a Phase 2/3 data release or regulatory milestone in Q1 2027, plus next earnings early Feb 2027.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Edgewise Therapeutics is a clinical-stage biotech developing orally bioavailable, small-molecule therapies for severe, rare muscle disorders (e.g., Duchenne muscular dystrophy). The company competes in the neuromuscular disease space with a differentiated mechanism targeting cardiac and skeletal muscle.

FACTOR & THEME

Healthcare / Biotechnology innovation, riding the sector leadership wave (+13.1% vs SPY this week). Biotech benefits from FDA catalysts and M&A speculation in Risk-Off regimes as larger pharma seeks growth through acquisition.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $45.11 on vol >204% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume 2.04x on earnings with prox_52w at 93.0 signals institutions are buying near the high. Base_tight at 3.1 is tighter than most in this list, indicating supply absorption. Healthcare sector leadership provides institutional bid. No insider buying is a neutral (not a negative) for early-stage biotech where insiders face blackout restrictions.

EARNINGS

REPORTED

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Just reported Nov 4. Biotech earnings are often catalyzed by pipeline updates rather than revenue beats (pre-revenue companies). The 16% move suggests positive trial data or enrollment milestones. Next print early Feb 2027.

KEY RISK

Setup invalidates below $42.00 (approximate base pivot), or on any negative clinical trial data or FDA setback. Biotech is binary - a failed trial or CRL (Complete Response Letter) would collapse the stock. RS vs SPY at +6.1 is weak leadership.

ANALYSIS

Prox_52w at 93.0 with base_tight 3.1 (tightest in the list) and Healthcare sector leadership makes this a solid setup. Strongest disconfirming evidence: RS vs SPY at +6.1 is barely above market, RS line is not at new high, and biotech is binary - the forward catalyst (likely a trial readout or FDA milestone) carries high event risk. Risk-Off regime adds volatility. The tight base and sector leadership earn a B, but lack of RS new high and weak RS prevent an A. Conviction: Medium - technical quality is good, sector is strong, but RS and biotech binary risk cap conviction.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Earnings reported today (Nov 6) drove an 18% move - likely a pipeline update or clinical data release. Forward catalyst: CG Oncology is likely approaching a BLA (Biologics License Application) filing or pivotal trial readout for its lead bladder cancer candidate (cretostimogene). FDA approval catalyst in H1 2027 would be the major re-rating event. Next earnings Feb 2027.

BUSINESS & POSITION

CG Oncology is a late-stage biotech developing oncolytic immunotherapies for bladder cancer, with lead candidate cretostimogene in pivotal trials. The company competes in the high unmet-need bladder cancer market, targeting non-muscle invasive bladder cancer (NMIBC) with a novel viral vector approach.

FACTOR & THEME

Healthcare / Biotechnology, riding sector leadership (+13.1% vs SPY this week). Oncology biotech benefits from durable investor interest and M&A speculation as large pharma seeks immuno-oncology assets.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $76.38 on vol >367% of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume 3.67x on earnings with prox_52w at 94.3 signals institutions are buying near the high. Healthcare sector leadership provides tailwind. No insider buying is neutral for late-stage biotech with blackout restrictions. Float of 68.3M is moderate, allowing institutional accumulation without squeezing the stock.

EARNINGS

EARNINGS TODAY

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Earnings reported today (Nov 6). Biotech earnings are pipeline-driven; the 18% move suggests positive trial enrollment, safety data, or regulatory progress. Consensus EPS/revenue data is less relevant for pre-commercial biotech. Next print Feb 2027.

KEY RISK

Setup invalidates below $70.00 (approximate base), or on any negative trial data or FDA delay. Biotech is binary - a failed trial or regulatory setback collapses the thesis. RS vs SPY at +3.4 is weak leadership, and prox_52w at 94.3 leaves little room to the high.

ANALYSIS

Prox_52w at 94.3 with 3.67x volume and Healthcare sector leadership makes this a strong setup. Strongest disconfirming evidence: RS vs SPY at +3.4 is barely positive, RS line is not at new high, and biotech is binary with high event risk (FDA approval or trial data in H1 2027). Risk-Off regime adds volatility. The proximity to 52-week high and sector leadership earn a B, but weak RS and binary risk prevent an A. Conviction: Medium - sector and technical proximity are strong, but RS and biotech binary risk cap conviction.
