ANALYSIS
CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER
Earnings today (July 30) likely beat expectations given the 7.3% surge. Forward catalyst path: Q3 guidance and revenue acceleration from new test adoption (thyroid, lung nodule, prostate genomic classifiers), plus potential partnership announcements with large lab networks or payers over next 90 days.
BUSINESS & POSITION
Veracyte develops genomic testing products for thyroid, lung, and prostate cancer diagnosis, enabling clinicians to make more informed treatment decisions and avoid unnecessary surgeries. The company is positioned as a precision medicine leader in the fast-growing molecular diagnostics market.
FACTOR & THEME
Direct exposure to precision medicine and oncology diagnostics, secular tailwinds accelerating as genomic testing becomes standard-of-care. Aligns with healthcare innovation and cost-reduction themes as health systems adopt risk-stratification tools.
BREAKOUT SIGNAL
Close above $59.78 on vol >1.5x of 20d avg
INSTITUTIONAL
Volume at only 1.5x is modest for an earnings day, but the tight base (1.44) suggests prior silent accumulation. The extraordinary RS vs SPY of +78.1 over 12 weeks is a clear institutional leadership signal-this stock is being actively accumulated ahead of the market. Float of 79.3M supports liquidity. No insider buying in last 90 days per the data.
EARNINGS
EARNINGS TODAY
EARNINGS CONTEXT
Reporting today (July 30). The 7.31% intraday move implies a beat is already being priced in. Historical beat pattern and guidance raises would determine if this is a serial beater that re-rates higher each quarter.
KEY RISK
Thesis invalid on a close back below $56.50, the presumed breakout pivot from the tight 1.44 ATR base, or on any guidance miss/cautious outlook at today's print that reverses the RS leadership.
ANALYSIS
Exceptional relative strength (+78.1 vs SPY, +81.6 3-month) combined with a textbook VCP-tight base (1.44), proximity to 52W high (98.1%), and earnings catalyst today make this a top-tier setup. The disconfirming evidence: RS line is NOT at new high despite the monster outperformance, which could signal the move is maturing. However, the base quality and RS magnitude override that concern. The Mixed/Transitional macro regime demands caution, but healthcare diagnostics can work in any environment. Conviction: High.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Strong Q2 earnings beat yesterday driving the post-earnings gap. Forward catalyst: Energy sector momentum (+11.2% this week) and North American upstream activity acceleration heading into Q3, plus potential inclusion in Russell rebalance watchlists given the ~$4.3B market cap threshold proximity.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Cactus designs and manufactures wellhead equipment and pressure control solutions for onshore oil & gas drilling. The company benefits from rising U.S. oil production and upstream capex expansion, holding a premium position in high-pressure horizontal drilling infrastructure.

FACTOR & THEME

Direct play on Energy sector leadership (best-performing sector this week at +11.2% vs SPY). Taps the U.S. energy independence and oil services recovery theme as operators expand drilling programs in the Permian and other key basins.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $62.00 on vol >2.1x of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume at 2.1x on the post-earnings move signals institutional participation in the breakout. Float of 58.9M provides liquidity for larger funds. No insider buying in last 90 days, but the earnings beat itself is the catalyst. Cross-reference 13F filings for institutional ownership verification.

EARNINGS

REPORTED

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Just reported yesterday (July 29). The 18.5% move suggests a material beat and/or guidance raise that exceeded the Street's expectations. Strong serial beat history would make this a re-rating candidate.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on a close back below $58, the presumed post-earnings gap-up support, or on any crude oil price breakdown below $65 WTI that reverses drilling activity forecasts.

ANALYSIS

Strong post-earnings momentum in the week's leading sector, proximity to 52W high at 96.4%, and robust RS (+8.1) are compelling. However, the wide base (4.96) and absence of RS line new high prevent an A-grade. The bearish case: Energy leadership can reverse quickly on macro headwinds, and the stock is already up 18.5% in one day-much of the near-term fuel may be spent. The setup earns sector rotation tailwinds (+0.5 boost in quality), but the base structure lacks the VCP tightness for institutional-grade follow-through. Conviction: Medium.

Analysis
Catalyst / Today's Driver Technical breakout to new 52W high with no immediate news catalyst-pure momentum. Forward catalyst: Next earnings in 90 days (October 28) where continued restaurant/hospitality recovery and margin expansion can drive a re-rating, plus seasonal strength into Q4 holiday catering demand.
Business & Position The Chefs' Warehouse distributes specialty food products to high-end restaurants, hotels, country clubs, and gourmet retailers across North America and Europe. The company benefits from the return of fine dining and premium foodservice spending post-pandemic.
Factor & Theme Taps consumer recovery and premium dining resurgence themes. As discretionary spending normalizes and event/catering activity rebounds, CHEF captures the high-margin specialty ingredient channel. Secular tailwind: premiumization of food experiences.
Breakout Signal Close above $112.22 on vol >1.75x of 20d avg
Institutional Volume at 1.75x is decent but not explosive. The monster RS vs SPY of +41.1 (and +44.6 3-month) is elite leadership-institutions have been accumulating this name aggressively ahead of broader market recognition. Small float (35.1M) amplifies moves. No insider buying in last 90 days; recommend cross-referencing 13F filings.
Earnings Earnings in 90D
Earnings Context Next earnings October 28, 90 days out. The stock's +41% outperformance suggests expectations are building for accelerating revenue growth and operating leverage as the fine dining recovery matures.
Key Risk Thesis invalid on a close back below $107, the prior consolidation high, or on any consumer spending slowdown/recession signals that reverse the discretionary dining recovery theme.
Analysis Elite relative strength (+41.1 vs SPY) and proximity to 52W high (99.9%) are exceptional leadership markers. However, the wide base (4.13) and absence of RS line new high keep this at B-grade despite the momentum. The disconfirming evidence: Breaking out to new highs with no catalyst 90 days before earnings is brave-if macro deteriorates or consumer spending cracks, this extended name will be sold first. The Mixed market regime and lack of immediate catalyst create execution risk. Conviction: Medium.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Earnings today (July 30) driving the 10.2% surge-likely a strong beat and/or guidance raise on back-to-school season strength. Forward catalyst: Q3 print in ~90 days where holiday footwear demand and inventory normalization can extend the recovery thesis.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Steven Madden designs and markets fashion-forward footwear and accessories, primarily targeting young women. The brand thrives on trend-driven consumer demand and fast inventory turns, with a global wholesale and DTC retail presence.

FACTOR & THEME

Direct play on consumer discretionary recovery and normalization of apparel/footwear spending. Benefits from inventory destocking cycles ending and retailers restocking fashion categories. Theme momentum is Mixed-consumer health signals are divergent.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $47.83 on vol >2.33x of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume at 2.33x on the earnings move signals strong institutional participation. RS vs SPY of +24.5 indicates sustained outperformance-funds are rotating into consumer discretionary recovery names. Float of 71.4M provides ample liquidity. No insider buying in last 90 days.

EARNINGS

EARNINGS TODAY

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Reporting today (July 30). The 10.2% move implies a material beat and/or raised guidance. If SHOO has a history of serial beats and conservative guidance, this could re-rate higher into Q3.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on a close back below $45, the presumed breakout pivot, or on any guidance cut/inventory build warning at today's print that signals weakening consumer demand for discretionary fashion.

ANALYSIS

Strong post-earnings momentum with volume confirmation (2.33x), excellent RS (+24.5), and proximity to 52W high (99.7%) make this a solid follow-through candidate. The disconfirming evidence: Consumer discretionary is theme-inconsistent with leading sectors this week (Energy/Financials), and the wide base (3.47) plus no RS line new high suggest this is an early-stage recovery play, not a confirmed leader. The Mixed macro regime increases risk for consumer names. Conviction: Medium.

ANALYSIS

CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER

Technical breakout toward 52W high with no immediate news-likely riding Financials sector strength (+2.9% this week). Forward catalyst: Next earnings October 29 (91 days) where net interest margin expansion and credit quality trends can drive a re-rating, plus any M&A speculation in regional bank consolidation wave.

BUSINESS & POSITION

Provident Financial is a New Jersey-based regional bank providing commercial and consumer banking services, with a focus on small business lending and retail deposits. The bank benefits from rising net interest margins as rate curves normalize.

FACTOR & THEME

Direct play on regional bank recovery and Financials sector leadership (second-best sector this week at +2.9% vs SPY). Taps normalization of the yield curve and credit quality stabilization themes. Sector rotation into Financials is a live tailwind.

BREAKOUT SIGNAL

Close above $24.86 on vol >1.55x of 20d avg

INSTITUTIONAL

Volume at 1.55x is modest. The tight base (2.42) and proximity to 52W high (97.9%) suggest quiet accumulation without triggering momentum chasers. RS vs SPY of +7.3 is solid but not elite. Large float (126.2M) makes this a potential institutional portfolio holding. No insider buying in last 90 days.

EARNINGS

EARNINGS IN 91D

EARNINGS CONTEXT

Next earnings October 29, 91 days out. Regional banks typically trade on NIM trends and credit reserve releases-forward guidance will be critical. No immediate catalyst until then.

KEY RISK

Thesis invalid on a close back below $24.00, the presumed consolidation low, or on any regional bank sector rotation reversal if macro data deteriorates and recession fears return.

ANALYSIS

Proximity to 52W high (97.9%), tight base (2.42), and positive RS (+7.3) in the week's second-best sector earn a B-grade. The setup benefits from Financials sector tailwinds (+0.5 boost). The disconfirming evidence: No immediate catalyst for 91 days, RS is modest, and regional banks are highly macro-sensitive-any economic slowdown reverses the thesis quickly. The Mixed regime is neutral for Financials. Conviction: Medium.

ANALYSIS
CATALYST / TODAY'S DRIVER
Technical breakout from a textbook VCP-tight base (1.21) with no immediate news-riding Financials sector momentum. Forward catalyst: Next earnings October 28 (90 days) where M&A advisory fee recovery and capital markets reopening (IPOs, restructurings) can drive upside, plus any large deal announcements in the pipeline.
BUSINESS & POSITION
Moelis is an independent investment bank providing M&A advisory, restructuring, and capital markets services to corporations, governments, and financial sponsors. The firm benefits from cyclical rebounds in deal activity and capital raising.
FACTOR & THEME
Direct play on capital markets recovery and M&A cycle acceleration as CEOs regain confidence and capital markets reopen. Taps the Financials sector leadership theme (+2.9% this week). Secular tailwind: private equity dry powder deployment and corporate strategic activity normalization.
BREAKOUT SIGNAL
Close above $68.35 on vol >1.52x of 20d avg
INSTITUTIONAL
The textbook VCP-tight base (1.21) is a classic silent-build pattern-institutions absorbing supply without spiking price. Volume at 1.52x is modest, consistent with quiet accumulation. RS vs SPY of +2.5 is positive but not elite. Float of 73.6M provides liquidity. No insider buying in last 90 days.
EARNINGS
EARNINGS IN 90D
EARNINGS CONTEXT
Next earnings October 28, 90 days out. Advisory firms are highly episodic-deal closings drive quarterly volatility. Forward outlook on M&A pipeline and restructuring activity will be critical.
KEY RISK
Thesis invalid on a close back below $65.50, the upper bound of the tight consolidation base, or on any M&A market freeze driven by geopolitical shocks or credit market disruption.
ANALYSIS
The textbook VCP-tight base (1.21) is the standout feature-this is institutional-quality coiling. Proximity to 52W high (87.4%) and Financials sector tailwinds (+0.5 boost) add conviction. The disconfirming evidence: RS is low (+2.5), no RS line new high, and 90 days to next catalyst is a long time in a Mixed regime. Advisory firms are highly cyclical-if M&A activity stalls, the thesis unravels. Conviction: Medium.
