CATALYST INTELLIGENCE
EARNINGS
August 4 - Q2 print roughly 75 days out - no near-term earnings catalyst inside the VCP window. Street estimates are thin given micro-cap coverage; the prior quarter showed sequential digital improvement but the company remains GAAP-unprofitable (EPS TTM -$0.20). No guidance update recently.
BUSINESS & POSITION
Entravision operates Spanish-language TV/radio broadcast assets across the U.S. and Latin America alongside a digital advertising solutions segment serving global brands targeting Hispanic and emerging-market audiences. Following the 2024 Meta authorized sales partner unwind, the company has been rebuilding around higher-margin advertising tech and political-ad cycle leverage.
FACTOR & THEME
Taps the 2026 midterm political-ad spend cycle and the broader small-cap reflation trade in advertising - peer reads from broadcast/political-ad beneficiaries have been firm into the election ramp. Also a deep-value/reversal play with revenue growth optically inflated (+114%) by digital re-segmentation.
NEWS FLOW
Catalyst type: Industry/Macro (Med impact) - 2026 political ad cycle ramp is the primary tailwind into H2, with Hispanic-targeted spend a structural beneficiary. No major contract wins or insider Form 4 activity in the last 60 days; price action is being driven by tape and short-cycle sentiment rather than fresh fundamental news.
INSTITUTIONAL
Volume contracted 32% week-over-week into a 52-week high (vol_w1 3.7M vs vol_w2/w3 ~5.4M) - classic quiet accumulation footprint. Institutional ownership shows '-' (yfinance data gap, not zero); zero insider buys in the last 60 days, which is the only thing keeping this from an A.
KEY RISK
Thesis invalid on a daily close back below $8.75 (base low) or any pre-announcement of a soft Q2 advertising trend; deep operating leverage to political-ad pacing means weak swing-state spend data is the disconfirmer.

Textbook vol dry-up into a 52W high with RS line at new high and pivot only 1.2% away - the structural setup is A-quality, but base_tight at 7.95 is loose and there is no proximate earnings/corporate catalyst inside two weeks, which caps this at B. Strongest disconfirming argument: micro-cap advertising names with no insider buying and -3.4% net margin often see breakouts fail when liquidity thins, and the 2.5 days-to-cover offers no squeeze fuel. Conviction: Medium.

EARNINGS
July 28 - Q2 print ~68 days out - outside the VCP trigger window. Forward EPS -$0.82 reflects ongoing restructuring; revenue growth +3.3% suggests early cycle inflection. No raised guidance recently; the bull case requires a Q2 gross-margin reacceleration above current 16.2%.
BUSINESS & POSITION
Magnachip designs and manufactures analog and mixed-signal power semiconductors (Power IC, MOSFETs, OLED display drivers) primarily for consumer, industrial, automotive, and communications end markets, with a Korean fab footprint. The company is in a multi-quarter restructuring with Power Analog Solutions as the growth engine after divesting the foundry business.
FACTOR & THEME
Levered to the analog/power-semi inventory normalization cycle and consumer/industrial demand inflection - peer reads from ON, MPWR, and Korean analog peers have stabilized. Also a sub-$300M micro-cap semi name with Technology-sector tailwind (+11.5% 20d) providing macro lift.
NEWS FLOW
Catalyst type: Industry (Med impact) - sector tape is the primary driver as analog power names rerate on inventory normalization. No major Form 4 insider buys, no announced design wins or strategic actions in the last 30-60 days; price strength is sympathy-driven from broader semi leadership.
INSTITUTIONAL
Vol_w2 (1.8M) clearly below vol_w1 (2.5M) and vol_w3 (3.4M) - dry-up exists but is choppy, not stair-stepped. Institutional ownership data is unavailable from this feed ("-"); zero insider purchases in last 60 days. Today's vol_ratio of 1.45 suggests the coil may be releasing - watch for whether buyers can absorb supply at $5.86.

KEY RISK
Thesis invalid on a daily close back below $5.30 (50-day MA / base support) or any pre-announcement of continued Power Analog weakness; valuation is inapplicable on negative earnings, and a guidance cut at the July 28 print is the binary disconfirmer.
RS line at new high with rs_vs_spy +129 and price 1.7% from pivot is a clean coil, but vol_dryup_strict failed (vol_w2 < vol_w1 AND vol_w2 < vol_w3, V-shape not stair-step) and there is no insider activity or imminent catalyst - structurally a B. Strongest disconfirming argument: -15.5% operating margin in a company still in restructuring means any cyclical disappointment cascades quickly, and 0.2 days-to-cover provides zero short-squeeze fuel. Conviction: Medium.

Base is tight (2.6) and vol contraction is meaningful but RS line is NOT at new high, rs_vs_spy is negative (-1.4), pivot is 4.8% away, and Consumer Cyclical is not a leading sector - no alpha angle today despite reasonable structure. Conviction: Low.
